We want to honor the mitzvah work in which our B'nei Mitzvah students are engaged.

Each month we include information we have received from that month's families.

I Was Just Thinking...

"And you shall bind them as a sign upon your hand..."

This part of a verse from Torah, forming part of the first paragraph of the Sh'ma, is a great symbolic image of how we, as inheritors of God's word should come as close to those words as possible - by binding them to our arms so that, in a sense, they become a part of us in some meaningful, if not powerful way.

In an attempt to figure out exactly how we as Jews should fulfill this Torah imperative, the Rabbis of the Talmud understood this command to be fulfilled by placing a small black box on our biceps, secured by leather straps, wound on our arms in a particular pattern. In addition, another box is placed on our foreheads to fulfill the other part of the sentence from the Torah, "And they shall be for a sign between your eyes...." Inside these boxes contain the very verses from Torah that speak of this command, written on parchment, like Torah, so that we actually have the words of Torah become a part of our very being. In this way, there could be a very physical connection to the sometimes esoteric words of Torah. We can feel them, see them, touch them, smell them, as they become an extension of us.

With this command in mind, I was struck recently by two articles I read about a modern version of binding something to our arms that seemed shocking and absurd as it was poignant and beautiful. The first was a New York Times article about an Israeli teenager, Eli Sagir, who had her grandfather's Auschwitz number tattooed on her arm. Her grandfather, Yosef Diamant, a survivor, when shown the tattoo, bent down to kiss his granddaughter's arm. The following week, Eli's mother and uncle followed suit. You can find the full article at <http://www.nytimes.com/2012/10/01/world/middleeast/with-tattoos-young-israelis-bear-holocaust-scars-of-relatives.html?pagewanted=all&r=0>.

According to the times article, "All my generation knows nothing about the Holocaust," said Ms. Sagir, 21, who has had the tattoo for four years. "You talk with people and they think it's like the Exodus from Egypt, ancient history. I decided to do it to remind my generation: I want to tell them my grandfather's story and the Holocaust story."

Mr. Diamant's descendants are among a handful of children and grandchildren of Auschwitz survivors here who have taken the step of memorializing the darkest days of history on their own bodies. With the number of survivors here dropping to about 200,000 from 400,000 a decade ago, institutions and individuals are grappling with how best to remember the Holocaust — so integral to Israel's founding and identity — after those who lived it are gone.

According to Michael Berenbaum, a professor at the American Jewish University in Los Angeles who is among the foremost scholars of the memorialization of the Holocaust, "We are moving from lived memory to historical memory, we're at that transition, and this is sort of a brazen, in-your-face way of bridging it. Replicating an act that destroyed their name and made them into a number would not be my first or second or third choice, but, it sure beats some of the other tattoos that some of the young people are drawing on their skin. It is certainly an intensely personal decision that often provokes ugly interactions with strangers offended by the reappropriation of perhaps the most profound symbol of the Holocaust's dehumanization of its victims. The fact that tattooing is prohibited by Jewish law — some survivors long feared, incorrectly, that their numbers would bar them from being buried in Jewish cemeteries — makes the phenomenon more unsettling to some, which may be part of the point."

In any event, the desire for Jews and Judaism to own its history, symbols and rituals in every generation is clearly strong and alive. We may not like what the next generation will do and time will tell if these new ways of expressing Jewish identity will last or be incorporated into Jewish life. Whatever happens, Judaism will be better and stronger for at least having the conversation and trying to do whatever it takes to survive.

In a similar way, a conversation about tattoos and Judaism is heating up as more and more Jews are using Jewish imagery as a statement of their pride in being Jewish including, as one person recently did, having the first and middle names of his children tattooed on his forearm. In an article in Tablet Magazine, Jonathan Papernik discusses an emerging trend among young Jews to display their pride of Judaism and their connection to Jewish history through tattoos. It is a fascinating twist and turn of events that will surely provoke widespread emotions <http://www.tabletmag.com/jewish-life-and-religion/113770/a-sign-upon-your-arm>.

Does reappropriating Jewish symbols and long associated bad memories in a new way transform the meaning of those events into something powerful and significant? Is the long held prohibition against tattoos coming undone in order to more proudly and effectively transmit Jewish identity? I am not sure, but I know that the sub-culture, particularly in Israel, of young Israelis tattooing themselves is widespread and very popular.

In any event, the desire for Jews and Judaism to own its history, symbols and rituals in every generation is clearly strong and alive. We may not like what the next generation will do and time will tell if these new ways of expressing Jewish identity will last or be incorporated into Jewish life. Whatever happens, Judaism will be better and stronger for at least having the conversation and trying to do whatever it takes to survive.

THANK YOU!

These are two very fun words to say and we have many people at Temple Shalom who deserve this praise!

Thank you, Michelle & Murray Swanger, Brandy & Mark Wayne and Robyn Young for their tremendous work leading Food Truck Palooza! Thanks to all others who organized, volunteered and attended this fantastic event on October 7th. It was a tremendous success.

Thank you to our Torah readers, Laurel Fisher and Debbie Niederman at a wonderful Simchat Torah service following Food Truck Palooza. This is an exciting and inspiring service. Join us next year so you too can see the entire Torah unrolled and re-rolled. Find "your" Torah portion and take a turn dancing with the Torah!

Thank you to all who attended the Town Hall Meeting on October 10th. We discussed the on-going process for evaluating and updating our Temple Constitution in a very civil, collaborative setting.

Thank you, James Bier, Mark Goodman, Mark Fishkind, Kathryn Frish, Harry Abrams, Keo Strull and the entire Golf Tournament Committee for another tremendous Temple Shalom Golf Tournament on October 15th.

Thank you, Traditions and the Temple Shalom Sisterhood for continuing to fund Religious School scholarships, youth activities and other Temple needs. Traditions' proceeds directly support Temple Shalom initiatives, as well as many Women of Reform Judaism and community projects. Your purchases support all that Traditions, the Sisterhood and Temple Shalom do for our community.

Thank you, all volunteers, supporters, donors and participants in everything that Temple Shalom does that makes it the warm, inviting and inclusive Reform Jewish Congregation it is! Thank you to our Shabbat docents who help us welcome others in the Dallas community into our home and teach them about our services, our religion, our practices, our beliefs and our community.

Thank you to our Temple Board of Trustees who discusses and implements policies to make Temple Shalom a wonderful community. Please join me in thanking each of them for their dedicated time and energy they choose to invest in Temple Shalom.

Thank you to all of our clergy and staff as they provide leadership, support and learning to all of us – kids and adults – through many insightful programs, services and informal learning opportunities.

Thank you to all who have helped make these fantastic events and services special.

Thank you for being an integral part of our Temple Shalom community.

COME GROW WITH US!

Worship Committee

The Worship Committee provides a forum for discussion of worship and observance between the Clergy and the Congregation. We invite and encourage your suggestions and questions. Meetings are held the 2nd Tuesday of each month. All congregants are invited to attend. If you would like to bring a matter before the committee, you must contact the committee before the specific meeting to gain approval for the agenda item. Next Meeting: Tuesday, November 13 at 7:00pm.

If you would like to attend, have suggestions, or have questions, please contact us at Ritual@TempleShalomDallas.Org.

Chevra Kadisha-Our New Old Tradition

Our Temple family shares life cycle events, happy and sad. We celebrate births, b'nei mitzvah, weddings and other simchas, and we provide comfort during illness and death. We have an opportunity to add to our role at the end of life with the formation of a Chevra Kadisha.

Jewish tradition has always provided for dealing with the end of life, going back to Abraham's securing the Cave of Machpelah as a burial place for Sarah. Jewish custom is that there is a ritual washing and preparing for burial of a deceased person and a growing number of Reform congregations are adopting this practice. The committee that performs this mitzvah is called a Chevra Kadisha.

Temple Shalom is considering forming our own Chevra Kadisha to perform this act of loving kindness. It will depend on our having enough volunteers to form a Chevra Kadisha, at least eight men and eight women, more would be better. The time commitment may be as little as an hour a year.

We will hold an information meeting to explain the role of our Chevra Kadisha and to answer questions. We hope you will attend the session and that you will consider becoming a member of this Holy Society.

The information meeting will be scheduled when we hear from enough people who would like to learn more about the role of a Chevra Kadisha before deciding if it is a mitzvah they might participate in. If you have any questions or would consider being part of our Chevra Kadisha, please contact Worship Committee member Bernie Mayoff at bernie@mayoff.com or 972-669-9169.

Constitution Evolution

This month, as we continue the evolution of our constitution, we look at Article III. We are looking at two issues this time.

The first issue is the stickier one: voting. The previous constitution and bylaws committee had an alternative to Section 3, which changed the voting to one vote per family, rather than one vote per adult in a family (with up to two votes per family). That means one family may have two votes, whereas a single mother would be counted as a family but only have one vote. Let me make it clear that families have always been permitted to split their votes if they have more adults than votes, and that will remain under both propositions.

Current (Option 1)

Section 3. Each of the following shall be entitled to vote: (a) the individual adult member, (b) in the case of a family, each adult member of the family shall have one vote with a maximum of two (2) votes per family. Voting by proxy shall not be permitted at any meeting.

Option 2

Section 3. A Congregant in good standing shall be entitled to vote on all matters put before the Congregation at Congregational meetings. If the membership affiliation is held by a family, the family shall be entitled to cast one vote, through any Congregant family member, at Congregational meetings; if more than one Congregant under a single membership elects to vote at a Congregational Meeting, those votes cast by Congregants under the same membership shall aggregate to one vote. Voting by proxy shall not be permitted at any Congregational meeting.

There are arguments for both sides:

The current language (Option 1):

Every family gets up to two votes.

It's easier to get a quorum for a congregational meeting (we calculate the # needed by the total # of families, yet we count attendance by voting adults).

It is the current language and people understand it.

Option 2:

Equity: "Why should a single parent family (e.g., a widow) that pays the same dues be entitled to less voting power than a family with two adults?"

Single adult families are expected to pay the same dues but receive half the say in voting on this constitution as married couples.

URJ counts us by family units

Since we are counted as family units, should we vote as family units?

Please consider this in the context not of "what have we always done," but rather, if we were starting anew and writing the constitution for the first time, how would I write it?"

Constitution Evolution (con't)

The second issue is adding a Section 9, which reads as follows:

Section 9. Temple Shalom shall endeavor to ensure that Congregants are treated fairly, respectfully, and with dignity, regardless of race, creed, disability, national origin, gender or orientation, and Temple Shalom shall do its utmost to serve the needs of Congregants consistent with its mission statement.

The current constitution reads:

MEMBERSHIP AND DUES

Section 1. Any adult person who wishes to be associated with the Jewish faith may be admitted to the class of regular membership on approval of his/her application by the Board of Trustees. An "adult" is a person age 18 years or older.

Section 2. A unit of regular membership shall be (a) the individual adult, or (b) the family. A member of a family unit who is unmarried and under twenty-six (26) years of age shall be considered part of his or her family unit and not as an individual member, unless they choose to become a member in their own right.

Section 3. Each of the following shall be entitled to vote: (a) the individual adult member, (b) in the case of a family, each adult member of the family shall have one vote with a maximum of two (2) votes per family. Voting by proxy shall not be permitted at any meeting.

Section 4. The Board of Trustees may establish other classes of membership in the Congregation, and will define the standards, rights and privileges associated with these other classes of membership.

Section 5. For the purpose of raising the revenues necessary for the maintenance of the Congregation, the Board of Trustees shall annually fix the amount of dues of the membership. The Board of Trustees shall have the power to establish procedures to vary dues for good cause in individual cases. The Board of Trustees shall also have the authority to establish capital fund requirements.

Section 6. The Board of Trustees may levy special assessments upon the members of the Congregation, subject to the approval of the members of the Congregation at a regular or special meeting.

Section 7. Dues are payable in advance. A member in arrears for six months in his/her dues or twelve months in other obligations may, on the vote of the Board of Trustees, be suspended from membership after thirty days notice in writing, the written notice to be sent to the member by registered or certified mail to the last address on record in the books of the Congregation. Upon suspension, all rights and privileges of the suspended member in the Congregation shall cease. A member thus suspended may be reinstated by the Board of Trustees on payment of all arrears and compliance with any other terms the Board of Trustees may stipulate.

Section 8. The resignation of any member shall not relieve him/her from the payment of any obligation due the Congregation at the time of resignation.

We need your feedback; this is as big a decision as we will make in reviewing our constitution. Even if your feedback is simply "I like Current" or "I like Option 2," the board needs your thoughts. As always, do you like or object to the proposed alternative version/additions? Do you have any grammatical or substantive suggestions for improving either version or a completely different version you would like to propose? Please share these thoughts with Dennis Eichelbaum at dje@edlaw.com this month.

If you still have not yet checked out the temple's website, please go view the section on Constitution Evolution to see our progress on this issue. The Board of Trustees approved at its previous meetings proposed amendments to be taken to the congregation. The current constitution and proposed amendments can be found by clicking CONSTITUTION or going to <http://www.templeshalomdallas.org/p-451.aspx>. We thank you for all your thoughtful comments and input. Please email your thoughts and suggestions to Dennis Eichelbaum at dje@edlaw.com who will share your suggestions with the Board.

Lifelong Learning Council

During our congregational trip to Israel in June this past summer, Rabbi Paley and I had already begun to talk about the next opportunities for journeying to Israel with you, our members and their friends and family. During the course of those conversations, we developed the concept for the next two trips to Israel.

The Journey of Conscience

Modeled after the teen trip to Eastern Europe and Israel called "March of the Living" this trip will depart in mid-October 2013 and is for adults only. This trip is open to our members and the community. Rabbi Paley will be leading our group, along with our tour operator guides, through five days in Eastern Europe, experiencing the emotion of visiting concentration camps and the rebuilding of what is now left of the Jewish community. Following this powerful experience, participants will fly directly to Israel. We will spend time in Jerusalem, Tel Aviv and the Galilee. During the seven days in Israel, our schedule will be designed around three parts to every day – study, touring, and time on your own. This trip is designed for adults and older adults and will not have a great deal of walking involved.

We will have an informational meeting with our tour operator, Keshet, on Thursday, November 15 at 6:30pm in the Learning Center.

December 2014 Family Trip (with B'nei Mitzvah in Israel)

If you have considered taking your family to Israel or are considering a Bar/Bat Mitzvah in Israel, this is the trip for you. This trip will be during winter break for 12 days. It will include all the major points of interest – the "must see" parts of Israel. In addition, there will be several opportunities for our B'nei Mitzvah students to participate in leading services and reading from Torah in the holy places in Israel. Mark your calendars now and start making plans to join us on this amazing experience. Friends and family are welcome to join us!

I look forward to seeing you Saturday, November 3 at our Shabbat Synaplex experience.

GFC Summer 2013 Registration Has Opened

It seems like only yesterday that more than 90 Temple Shalom students were in Bruceville! Before you can blink, many will be returning for Summer 2013. Registration for the Summer 2013 sessions have opened. With GFC's new online registration system, all of last summer's campers can register easily by just clicking a button and following a few steps. We urge you to register early to take advantage of the early-bird discount and to reserve the session of your choice. To see the 2013 rates and dates, go to www.greene.org.

Don't Let Your Soda Tabs Go To Waste!

The SHFTY board needs your help to collect the pull tabs (the metal things on the tops of soda cans) for the nonprofit organization Pull Tabs for Charity. Half of the proceeds from the pull tabs go to the National Cancer Institute and half go to the Ronald McDonald House. Just bring your metal tabs and put them in the jar in the Youth Programs office or find Barrett or a SHFTY board member and we'll be happy to take them! Happy collecting!

Connections Council

Shalom Silver

LIFE STARTS AT 55 FOR TEMPLE SHALOM SENIORS AND FRIENDS!

Sunday, November 18 Meyer Denn, Comedian 4:00 PM Temple Shalom

Meyer Denn and his special blend of Texas/Yiddish humor is guaranteed to make you laugh or cry! Meyer grew up in a small Texas town, with a thriving Sephardic Jewish community. As time went by, most of that community left or died and Meyer moved on. His day job is now Executive Director of Jewish Education at the Jewish Federation of Greater Dallas. This will definitely be a fun and interesting program! Appetizers and wine will be served. Shalom Silver members $5 each, guests $10 each. Please send checks by Thursday, November 15, made payable to Temple Shalom, to Judy Utay, 913 Warren Way, Richardson, TX 75080.

Saturday, December 1 Fabulous Fifties! 7:30 PM Grapevine Opry

This show will feature country western music and many of the best tunes from the 50's! The Opry's talented cast presents great singing, dancing, plus a lot of kibbitzing, which always adds up to a terrific show! You'll be clapping your hands, stomping your feet, maybe dancing in the aisles – it's a hoot! Ticket price for all this fun is $19/per person. Please send checks to Judy Utay (info above) by Monday, November 26. Come early and stroll around the historic, nostalgic town of Grapevine. Enjoy dinner at one of the Main Street restaurants, such as Tolbert's, Wilhoite's, Amore's Pizza and Pasta, Big Fish Seafood or Mimi's Café.

Saturday, December 15 The Full Monty 8:00 PM Richardson Theatre Center

This musical comedy is the stage version of the British film, about six unemployed steelworkers, low on cash, who not only put on a Chippendale's type show, but go "the full monty" and strip all the way! Tickets for this entertaining, revealing show are $20 per person. Please send checks to Judy Utay (info above) by Wednesday, December 12.

Caregivers' Day Out

10:30 AM – 2:30 PM

2nd and 4th Thursdays at Temple Shalom

Caregivers may bring their loved ones to Temple Shalom where they will be met by a "special friend" volunteer. The time will be spent in a stimulating, creative few hours participating in activities such as music, games, arts and crafts and exercise.

If you are interested in a safe, loving, nurturing environment for your loved one while you, their caregiver, have a much-needed break from the continuous care you provide - this is the program for you!

A physician's diagnosis of early stage Alzheimer's or Dementia is needed to qualify for this program. Participants must be living at home. For more information and an application form, please contact Barbara Glazer at 972-931-9077 or bbglazer@swbell.net.

With a nod to Winston Churchill, "Never has so much been accomplished by so few for the benefit of so many." And so it went for the Food Truck Palooza held earlier in October. You had to have been there to understand what a resounding success it was. It can clearly take its place as one of the most memorable and enjoyable events in the proud history of Temple Shalom. Now as 2013 beckons, we can start to envision the next phase of the celebration of Cantor Croll's retirement.

For now, it's time to recognize the bounty we enjoy. It's time for family, for mirth, for good eating, and yes...for indigestion, too. Such is the human experience...we persevere.

The Brotherhood's Monthly Board of Directors meeting, normally held on the 3rd Wednesday of each month, will take place Tuesday, November 20th, out of deference to the Thanksgiving holiday. Then, on November 27th, the Brotherhood is proud to host "Martinis and Mishnah" featuring Debbie Massarano, our Lifelong Learning Director. The location is yet to be determined, but that's no excuse to miss the event.

Allow me a special advance mention of the Brotherhood's Annual Softball Awards Breakfast to be held on Sunday December 2nd. As usual, Bob Weinfeld, the George Washington and Ed Sullivan of the softball league, is putting together another extravaganza. He's got special guests that you'll hear about (or may have already heard). The event also offers an opportunity to perform a mitzvah as we host another Blood Drive, this time in support of the courageous battle being fought by Temple Shalom Brotherhood Softball League Hall of Famer Jay Lifshen. On or off the field, we support our own.

May this Thanksgiving season find you and your family in good health and your home filled with happiness and peace.

L'Shalom,
Scott Butnick

MyJewishDallas.org is the hub for all the Jewish cultural, educational and social programs in North Texas and allows you to customize the information you want. It provides content and services to our robust Jewish community connecting Jews of all backgrounds, ages and geographies.

The website features:

- A list with detailed information about upcoming community events
- A directory of every Jewish organization in North Texas
- Category listings of events by organization searchable by date, location, age, interest and cost
- Personalized login allows you to customize your preferences
- Jewish calendar with holidays, candle lighting times and links to many amazing Jewish resources
