I Was Just Thinking...

In 2005, the U.N. declared that January 27th of every year would be recognized as an International Day to Remember the Victims of the Holocaust. January 27th was chosen because it was the day that Auschwitz-Birkenau was liberated by the Soviet Union in 1945. Sixty-nine years from the end of the war and the world Jewish community is facing a new challenge; sooner than we would want, there will be no more Survivors.

The truth is that all of the Holocaust survivors are old. Many survivors are dependent on Jewish and social welfare. They are not living as well as they deserve to live. One day, not long from now, there will be no more Holocaust survivors left.

In a recent article, writer Matthew Fishbane notes that, "... one of the greatest risks of Jewish life today is the smothering sentimentalization of our memory of the Shoah. The fact that any survived Auschwitz only to suffer at the end of their lives is appalling and embarrassing. These are painful things to think about, let alone say. And part of the uneasiness comes from the way wealthy and comfortable American Jews have used 'remembering the Holocaust' as the touchstone of their communal existence."

When a recent, highly publicized and debated Pew study asked, "What does being Jewish mean in America today?" an astonishing 73 percent of U.S. Jews replied that "remembering the Holocaust" was "essential to their sense of Jewishness." Another 69 percent also cited "leading an ethical life." More than half (56 percent) said that "working for justice and equality is essential to what being Jewish means to them." To U.S. Jews, more important than any other identifying factor was this bizarre enshrinement of memory.

He goes on to remind us that World War II ended nearly 70 years ago. Even accounting for those who lived through the war, as opposed to having directly suffered its most terrible expressions, the number of survivors still alive today across the world is probably in the low hundreds of thousands, and dwindling. Earlier this month, after an initiative announced by Vice President Joe Biden, the U.S. Senate's Special Committee on Aging noted in a hearing on Holocaust survivors that one fourth of the roughly 140,000 survivors in America live at or below the poverty line. Some other estimates put more than half of the survivors living in the United States below 200 percent of the Federal Poverty Level, meaning they earn less than $21,660 annually. The problem is serious enough that last week, the Obama Administration named the first Special Envoy for U.S. Holocaust Survivor Services, charged with caring for this population. "Living in poverty, plagued by immeasurable loss, they are at risk of falling into isolation and despair," Lee Sherman, the president of the Association of Jewish Family and Children's Agencies, told the Senate. According to Elihu Kover of Nazi Victim Services for Selfhelp Community Services, more than half of the thousands of survivors who live in New York City can be classified as "very poor" or "near poor" under federal guidelines.

At the Senate hearing, Kover put it even more starkly:

Holocaust survivors are growing older and frailer. The twenty-year-old who survived Auschwitz is now eighty-eight. She may be coping with the loss of her spouse and have no family to speak of. In addition to the myriad of problems associated with so-called "normal aging," many survivors have numerous physical and psychological problems directly attributable to their experiences during the Holocaust. Prolonged periods of starvation, exposure to severe weather conditions with inadequate clothing, and experiencing and witnessing unspeakable atrocities, take a severe toll on body and mind. And many of these problems only surface in old age, having been hidden during their working years when the survivors struggled and made a new life for themselves as productive citizens of this country.

The problems the survivors face are real and daunting. Our challenge is even more serious; will we do whatever we can to preserve their memory and, in doing so, preserve their dignity, their lives and their history? I pray we do, for we can do no less.

The President's Perspective

Friends,

Happy New Year! My family and I wish all of you a very happy and healthy 2014.

In the spirit of the New Year, I pose the questions, "What would make this year special?" and "What do we want this year to look like when we reach New Year's Eve and look back?" Some of us may have some personal fitness or weight-loss goals, while others may have goals related to jobs, family, school or grades, relationships, travel, monetary savings or investments, or finding more meaning in our lives. All of these are reasonable goals that can provide the proverbial carrot we can use to identify, chase and seek to accomplish our goals for the year. I suggest that the exercise of visioning and planning what your goals are for the year often helps to provide a structure for us to do a meaningful self-evaluation, during the year and at the end of the year. How do you want to improve in 2014?

Your Temple Board of Trustees has incorporated this approach by creating its own "Report Card" and performing quarterly reviews of our Board performance. So far, this has been an interesting, reflective exercise that has helped us, as Trustees for Temple Shalom, keep ourselves on track.

As we turn the page on the secular calendar, welcome in 2014 and look to the year ahead, I hope all of us make the time and take the effort to look forward, set some personal growth goals (even if they involve some waist-line shrinkage!) and be willing to hold ourselves accountable to the standards we set for ourselves. I hope each of us can position ourselves so that we are pleased, happy and satisfied when we have the opportunity to look back on 2014. Let's make this year special!

See you soon,

Aric L. Stock
Temple President

Constitution Meeting Sunday, February 16 9:30am Blumin Ceremonial Room

The Constitution Committee will meet to review proposed amendments as part of the ongoing and continuing review of our Temple's constitution. All are welcome. If you would like to suggest amendments or areas of concern, but are unable to attend, please email your suggestions to Dennis Eichelbaum at dje@edlaw.com.

Cantor Search Committee

The Search Committee has shifted into high gear. We are busy reading resumes and conducting skype interviews. We have also applied for and been granted a variance that will allow us to interview cantorial students who will be ordained this May.

Retired? We Have a Job for You!

Are you retired and looking for something to do during the day? Our Archivist, Dan Krause, is looking for some help with our Temple archives. This is a crucial, ongoing project that allows us to maintain documents pertaining to Temple Shalom's history. Training will be provided. If you have some time, please let him know at danlkrause@aol.com or (972) 644-2299.

Lifelong Learning Council

I was out recently with some of my parents' friends, when one of them pointed across the room and asked if I thought the guy with the brown curly hair was an M.O.T. Having never heard that acronym, I gave her a funny look and asked her to break it down for me. She chuckled and said, "M.O.T, Member of the Tribe, you know, one of us!"

February 7th – 9th, Rabbi Sid Schwarz, author of Jewish Megatrends: Charting the Course of The American Jewish Future, will be our Scholar-in-Residence. In addition to sharing his Jewish wisdom and insight, he will present findings from his book, which discusses the future of Judaism as it relates to Millennial (those born between 1980 and the early 2000's) engagement. In exploring the question of generational differences, Rabbi Schwarz presents what he identifies as a growing polarization between two types of Jews: "tribal Jews" and "covenantal Jews". Schwarz characterizes "tribal Jews" as those who identify strongly with Israel and who worry about threats to Jewish continuity and survival. These "tribal Jews" are the majority of adults and seniors in our Jewish community. It is how they were brought up and it is the lens through which they see their Judaism. "Covenantal Jews" are those of the younger generation who are less concerned with "the tribe" or "M.O.T.'s" and more focused on Jewish covenant, on social justice and tikkun olam. Schwarz argues that the "tribal Jews" are driving away the "covenantal Jews," the younger generation, because they do not understand Millennials' needs. Schwarz argues that Millennials need to be engaged from the "outside in approach," rather than from the "inside out approach." In other words, start with what matters to young adults, explore their secular concerns and passions, and help them find a way into Judaism through a connection to Jewish wisdom, literature and spirituality.

Listening to Rabbi Schwarz, I know you will agree with me that Temple Shalom is, in fact, engaging Millennials "where they are," from the "outside in." In our Next Dor program, our post b'nai mitzvah students choose from a variety of electives ranging from "JewTube" to "Krav Maga" to "Sex Ed". These electives begin with a secular topic, draw in the student and then create a Jewish connection. Teens walk away with Jewish knowledge and insight without it being "forced" through traditional text study. Thus, they are more likely to engage year to year.

The same means of engagement and education are applied whether you are a student in our K-7 program, Next Dor or are active in our Young Adult Connection (YAC) group. Our clergy and teachers are committed to Millennial engagement and continuously find creative ways to build connections and ties to Judaism.

I feel so lucky to be part of this community and have the opportunity to bridge the gap between two generations of Jews. We have so much to learn from one another and I look forward to continued engagement. You can find the details of our Scholar-in-Residence weekend on page 8 of the newsletter. I encourage you to read Jewish Megatrends - copies are available in Traditions Judaica Shop.

We will examine the Biblical texts and discover the incredible origins and deeper meanings of the Kosher laws. Come with your thinking caps on and get ready for an incredible journey of the mind and soul!

This will serve as the kickoff for a wonderful month of events and activities associated with Kashrut and ethical eating!
More information coming soon!

Scholar In Residence Rabbi Sid Schwarz
Jewish Megatrends and Re-visioning the American Synagogue
February 7 - 9

Rabbi Sid Schwarz has been a congregational rabbi, a social entrepreneur, the CEO of several non-profits and an author. He founded and led PANIM: The Institute for Jewish Leadership and Values for 21 years, an organization that is dedicated to inspiring, training and empowering Jewish youth to a life of leadership, activism and service. Dr. Schwarz previously served as the executive director of the Jewish Community Council of Greater Washington D.C. where he oversaw the public affairs and community relations work for the Jewish community. He is the founding rabbi of Adat Shalom Reconstructionist Congregation in Bethesda, MD, where he continues to teach and lead services. Dr. Schwarz holds a Ph.D. in Jewish history and is the author of more than 100 articles and three groundbreaking books, Finding a Spiritual Home: How a New Generation of Jews Can Transform the American Synagogue (Jewish Lights, 2000), Judaism and Justice: The Jewish Passion to Repair the World (Jewish Lights, 2006), and Jewish Megatrends: Charting the Course of the American Jewish Future (Jewish Lights, 2013).

Friday evening, February 7

Shabbat Service 6:30pm Sanctuary

Charting the Course of the American Jewish Future

This sermon identifies the social trends challenging today's Jewish institutions, and then offers a formula that may lead to a Jewish Renaissance.

Saturday, February 8

Torah Study: 9:00am to 10:15am Radnitz Social Hall

Text Study: Explore classical texts on Tzedek and Kedushah

Shabbat Morning Service, Study and Light Lunch:

Davening "Out of the Box"

10:30am - 1:00pm Epstein Chapel & Radnitz Social Hall

You should attend this prayer experience if: a) you are often bored at services; b) you have no idea why anyone would willingly attend a worship service; c) you are a deeply spiritual person, but services don't always work for you; or d) you want to go where prayerful Jews have never gone before. Through discussions, song, movement and sharing, participants, from young to old, will walk away with a new appreciation for the Shabbat liturgy and the transformative power of prayer. Important note: If you choose to participate in this service, you must be in your seat by 10:30am. While people may leave whenever they choose, it will be impossible to appreciate or understand the experience if you are not present at the beginning.

Post-Lunch Conversation

Following lunch, there will be a conversation about reactions to the morning experience with an opportunity to ask questions of Rabbi Schwarz.

Sunday morning, February 9

Israel: Between Solidarity and Conscience

9:30am - 10:30am Epstein Chapel

Once Israel was the most unifying force in Jewish life. Today, it has become a source of polarization in the American Jewish community. Some parts of the community spare no effort to advocate on Israel's behalf. Others feel that certain policies of the Israeli government can and must be criticized. This session explores the dilemma and offers ideas on how the community might navigate this divide.

SOLD OUT! Adult Ed Trip with Rabbi Boxman to Vicksburg, Natchez and Memphis to Discover Southern Jewish Life and Enjoy the Music April 24 – 27, 2014

The trip has sold out! To be placed on a waiting list, contact Howard Gottlieb.

We've planned an active, invigorating trip packed with education, inspiration, music and, of course, food of the Jewish and spiritual south. If you're an adventurous adult with lots of stamina and a great sense of humor, please consider joining us!

We'll travel by luxury bus, leaving early Thursday morning, and visit the battlefield at Vicksburg, Mississippi and a Jewish cemetery adjacent to the field. This will be followed by a visit to Natchez, Mississippi, the home of the Museum of the Institute for Southern Jewish Life, housed in Temple B'nai Israel. We'll then head to Indianola, Mississippi and tour the B.B. King Museum and meet with Steve Rosenthal, Mayor of Indianola. Then, on to Cleveland, Mississippi for a visit to Adath Israel, where Rabbi Boxman will lead us in a Shabbat Service. We'll wake up in Memphis, Tennessee and tour Graceland, the National Civil Rights Museum, The Belz Museum of Asian and Jewish Art, and Sun Records, the home of the Million Dollar Quartet. Of course, we'll make frequent stops at restaurants to enjoy good southern food!

We'll head home Sunday, and arrive back in Dallas around dusk.

For a brochure of the trip, go to the Featured Adult Education Events tab on the Learning menu on the Temple Shalom website, click <http://www.templeshalomdallas.org/learning/adult-education/featured-adult-education-events> or contact Howard Gottlieb at hjq@att.net or (214) 762-6673.

Tycher Library's Fiction Flicks

This new group will meet four times a year to discuss books that have also become films. We will meet in the Tycher Library to enjoy a pizza dinner, watch the film and then participate in a discussion about the book and film.

Tuesday, February 11
6:00pm Tycher Library at the J

Join Bart Weiss, from the Video Association of Dallas and 3Star Cinema, for a discussion on The Reader, the story of a young boy in post-war Germany who is seduced by an older woman who disappears. Years later, as a law student, the boy discovers his ex-lover is on trial as a Nazi murderer. As he watches the trial, he realizes that she has been keeping a secret, and if it were known, it could lighten her sentence. But her crimes are so horrendous, does she deserve leniency? Is this a story of two people in odd circumstances, or is it the story of how a whole country can be seduced, follow the group, and then be punished?

The Reader by Bernhard Schink. The film is in English, and is rated R.

The Reader

Please RSVP to Nina Goldboro, Director, Tycher Library at (214) 239-7132 or ngoldboro@jfgd.org so that we can provide enough pizza!

The Connections Council and Religious School would like to invite all parents (or whoever drops off the kids for Sunday school), to STAY & PLAY with us! We'll be serving coffee, bagels and cream cheese from 9:30 – 11:30 in the Gathering Space for any and everyone to enjoy. Hope you'll join us. If you have any questions or ideas, e-mail Connections Council Co-Chairs, Diane Laner or Irene Sibaja, at Connections@TempleShalomDallas.org.

FEBRUARY 2

CREATE YOUR FAMILY TREE Join Barry Lachman and Dan Krause for a great beginners' session on how to research and put together a family tree. Bring a laptop if you have one, or paper and pen if you don't. And, if you are so inclined to share some stories of your own, or photos when smiling was unheard of, we'll be all eyes and ears!

FEBRUARY 9

B'NEI MITZVAH IDEA SWAP Attention B'nei Mitzvah Newbies and Veterans! This week we're focusing on anything and everything about your celebration. Parents of upcoming B'nei Mitzvah students will be able to learn from those who have "been there and done that." B'nei Mitzvah Veterans.....whether your celebration was in the last decade or last weekend, grab your photo albums, scrapbooks, binders and notes and share what you've learned, who you loved working with, and those pitfalls to avoid. Traditions' own Clare Fishman will have plenty of invitations, programs and more to get those ideas flowing as well.

FEBRUARY 16

SISTERHOOD STROLL If you're ready to grab some fresh air, join Sisterhood for a stroll around the neighborhood. Bottled water provided. But, if you'd rather stay indoors, we always have Mah Jongg and Scrabble for those who'd like to play!

FEBRUARY 23

YOGA! YOGA! YOGA! Bring your mat and a water bottle, and join us for YOGA from 9:30am - 10:30am in the Radnitz Social Hall with yoga instructor Stephanie Spett. Then, after you've burned a few calories and have stretched out, you'll feel better when you eat that bagel and cream cheese. Namaste!

Shalom Silver Presents Social Media Classes: Techno Bytes

Overwhelming demand already has these classes at capacity! We want to schedule more classes, but we need you to tell us which ones would interest you! Please read the descriptions below and email Judy Parker at heyjud38@aol.com and tell her for which classes you would like to sign up. We're keeping waiting lists for the February classes and will schedule additional classes based on interest - let Judy know if you would like a class on Linked-In as well!

Trying to keep up with your friends, kids and grandkids? Confused about what you hear concerning Facebook, Twitter and other social media outlets? Maybe you just want a faster and more mobile way to stay connected with the news and events most important to you?

Join us for our new series Techno Bytes for a "bite" of information. Monica Sandler, a corporate trainer and self-professed computer geek, will be our guide.

We will explore how to start an account, set security and appropriately use a variety of social media tools like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and Linked-In.

Classes are free, but have reached capacity.
If you've already signed up, but need to cancel, please email Judy Parker at heyjud38@aol.com so your spot can be filled.
Please RSVP to Judy to be put on the waiting lists.

Havurah

A havurah is a group of Temple members with similar interests who gather for holidays, cultural and educational experiences, game nights, social action and more. It's a great way to connect to our Temple community and the Jewish community at large. Each Havurah determines what it wants to do and plans activities according to its members' interests.

The Havurah Committee is currently working with 11 groups consisting of more than 150 members ranging in age from 1 to 80+. Make new friends and invite your current friends to join you by applying to be in a Havurah - or create a new one! Send in your application TODAY!

Click here for a Havurah application or find it on the Havurah page on the Temple Shalom website at www.templeshalomdallas.org.

Please ask questions at havurah@templeshalomdallas.org.

Caring Congregation Discussion on Aging Issues

Monday, February 10

7:00pm - 9:00pm Epstein Chapel

Guest Speakers:

Sol Reifer, Attorney, SMU Adjunct Professor, Estate Planning and Trusts, and Accredited Estate Planner, will discuss planning wills under current law.

Paul Markowitz, Owner of Senior Living Specialists will discuss navigating the senior care maze. He experienced difficulty finding an appropriate assisted-living facility for his mother, diagnosed with Alzheimers at age 59, and subsequently founded his company to help others deal with similar issues.

We will have two 45 minute talks with a short break between sessions.

Temple Shalom has some seriously ill congregants who could use some assistance with transportation, companionship and meals. If you have some spare time, please volunteer at caring@templeshalomdallas.org.

Caregivers' Day Out

10:30am – 2:30pm Learning Center

2nd & 4th Thursdays: February 13 & 27

Caregivers may bring their loved ones to Temple Shalom for a few hours of activities. We have space for a few more people. For more information and an application form, please contact Barbara Glazer at (972) 931-9077 or bbglazer@swbell.net.

Worship Committee

Would you like to provide input about worship at Temple Shalom?

We want to hear from you! We meet each month on the 2nd Tuesday at 7:00pm.

Please contact Ken Parker, Worship Committee Chair, at ritual@templeshalomdallas.org.

New Caring Congregation Blog!

Jo-Ann Saunders, Caring Congregation Co-Chair, is writing a blog for our website.

Habitat for Humanity Building Together Update

Build Date: Habitat for Humanity's "Building Together," Jewish-community-wide build is slated for May-June. Temple Shalom's date is Sunday, May 18 from 11:30am - 3:00pm. Look for sign-up info in the e-news, or email socialaction@templeshalomdallas.org with "Building Together" in your subject line and a sign-up link will be sent to you.

Information Session: The Tikkun Olam Council will host an information session about Habitat's work on Sunday, March 30 from 9:30am - 10:15am in the Learning Center for a brief introduction and Q&A about Habitat before the Bagels & Bible class. Please join us - we promise breakfast goodies and coffee!

Unlock the DreamTour: Want to go on a road tour with the Tikkun Olam Council? We are going to Habitat's facility and the build neighborhood! Join us on April 6 from 2:00pm - 5:00pm onsite with Habitat to learn first-hand what they do to serve the community. We will meet at 1:45pm at Temple Shalom. The Tikkun Olam Council will rent a van or bus to take members if needed. Spaces are limited, so please RSVP by 2/17 to socialaction@templeshalomdallas.org.

North Texas Food Bank Mitzvah Project

Be Green with the Tikkun Olam Council

We are looking for members interested in helping to raise awareness about issues affecting our climate, environment and concrete things we can do within our temple walls and in our own lives to "be more green." All members are welcome to express your interest and ideas. Here are some great resources to inspire: <http://uri.org/socialaction/issues/green/>. Please contact socialaction@templeshalomdallas.org.

Dallas Dinner Table January 20th Event

On January 20th, Martin Luther King Day, 28 strangers of various races, ages and ethnicities gathered together to exchange perspectives and experiences. What brought them together was the Dallas Dinner Table. Temple Shalom hosted four tables. Over dinner, participants addressed their views on such questions as whether race affects healthcare, what are they proud of about race relations in our area and what concerns them, and what things are due to racism vs. socio-economic level. 33 other Dinner Tables were meeting at locations across the Metroplex, involving over 300 diners and including at least 15 Temple Shalom members.

Did they solve one of our country's challenges? No. But, did they move the ball forward? Yes, a little bit, and many of their friends and associates will feel the ripple effect. For, after all, as it says in Pirke Avot (Book of Principles), "It is not incumbent upon you to complete the work, but neither are you at liberty to desist from it."

BROTHERHOOD

President
Scott Butnick
First Vice President
Perry Zidow
Second Vice President
Bill Hoffpauer
Treasurer
Irwin Kaufman
Corresponding Secretary
Rick Cohen
Recording Secretary
Sander Gothard
Immediate Past President
Michael Kaplan

If you didn't make it to the Brotherhood's Toast and Roast on 1/26, don't be distraught. We'll have another one next January and you can atone for the sin of missing the Toast 'N Roast with prayer, penitence and charity. But, you missed a great evening. Mazel Tov again to Ken Glaser, who was given the Shalom Award, and to Mark Fishkind and Perry Zidow for another Tour de Force.

The Brotherhood continues to fulfill our commitment to providing Shoah education when we present "Lawyers Without Rights," February 2nd – 13th, here at Temple Shalom. "Lawyers Without Rights" is a multi-panel display that tells the story of how Jewish lawyers were persecuted during the Nazi years in Germany. The Brotherhood is honored to present the premiere Dallas showing of this international exhibit. The Congregation is invited to join us on Sunday, February 2nd at 1:00pm for a Grand Opening Reception in the Congregational Gathering Space. More exhibit details are on page 13.

We're also proud to announce Temple Shalom will once again host the Dallas Community Yom Hashoah Commemoration on April 27th. And, soon, you'll see some communication about the yellow Yom Hashoah candle. We shall never forget!

L'Shalom,
 Scott Butnick, President
 Temple Shalom Brotherhood

Friday Night Ushers

Who doesn't want to be one of those cool guys everyone envies who distributes books, then picks them up at the end of the service? Did you always want to be the first person to say Shabbat Shalom, Good Shabbas, or some other witty welcome to people as they enter for Shabbat worship?

Volunteer to usher at Shabbat Services by contacting Calvin Hurst at calhurst@att.net or (972) 771-2311.

Lawyers Without Rights

Jewish Lawyers in Germany under the Third Reich

Thanks to the Dallas Holocaust Museum/Center for Education and Tolerance and Brotherhood, we will be hosting this exhibit at Temple Shalom.

Grand Opening – February 2 (1:00-3:00 pm)

Exhibit – February 3-13 (9:00 am-5:00 pm)

FREE EVENT

"Lawyers Without Rights," which has been shown in more than 40 cities in Germany and throughout the world, depicts how Jewish lawyers and judges were barred from German courts beginning in 1933, and how individual rights and the Rule of Law were utterly neglected during the Nazi era.

For more information please contact Scott Butnick at 214-923-6501 or sbutnick@swbell.net.

Munich lawyer Dr. Michael Siegel (1882-1979) had complained to Munich Police Headquarters in early April 1933 when one of his clients was taken into protective custody. He had the legs of his trousers cut off and was led through Munich's inner streets barefoot with a board around his neck that read, "I will never complain to the police again!" As late as 1940, Siegel managed to flee to Peru where he died in 1979.

Our mission is to inspire in you a relationship with God, Torah and the Jewish people. Do you know someone we should invite to Temple, someone who is new to Dallas or is not connected to a congregation?

Please contact Executive Director Steve Lewis so we can show them that Temple Shalom is their place.

Celebrating a SIMCHA?

Give the gift of Israel! Consider the purchase of an eMitzvah bond for as little as $36. The recipient will receive the principal plus interest at the end of the 5 year term. You can now invest in an Israel bond online for any occasion, at any time. Simply go to www.israelbonds.com, create an account and purchase a bond.

Remember the Temple in Your Will

Temple Shalom is committed to preserving the future of our congregation for generations to come. Bequests of all sizes are important resources for the Temple, and we encourage you to be a link to the future by remembering the Temple in your will. Your lasting tribute is your commitment to the survival of our religion, our Temple, and our people.

A bequest can easily be established by adding a simple codicil to your will. Additionally, many other options exist to leave a legacy for Temple Shalom.

A brochure with more information is available in our main foyer, or by contacting the administrative offices. For more information, please contact our Executive Director Steve Lewis at 972-661-1810 x202.

Your planned gift will serve the future of our congregation and community. Thank you for helping assure the strength and health of Temple Shalom for generations to come.
