VOLUME 49 NO. 1

2013-2014 Volunteers of the Year

This year's Volunteers of the Year are an active group of congregants! Here are excerpts from President Aric L. Stock's remarks at the May 4th Annual Meeting as he presented them with this honor.

Diane Laner, Judy Parker, Ken Parker & Howard Gottlieb after being surprised by their Volunteer of the Year award!

Howard Gottlieb – Howard is a past officer of Temple Shalom, a past member of our Board of Trustees, a member of several search committees, including our most recent search committee, the Chair of our Lifelong Learning Council and all around wonderful person!

Diane Laner – Diane has taken the position of Membership Chair to a new, creative and enthusiastic level! She is also a past member of the Temple Board of Trustees and the 2011-12 Membership Task Force. Diane's energetic leadership draws new Dallasites to Temple Shalom and draws Temple members together in a very special way!

Judy & Ken Parker – What don't Judy and Ken Parker do? Judy has led several singles groups and programs, Ken is actively involved as a past Brotherhood President, past Temple Board member, past Brotherhood Board member, current Chair of our Worship Committee, recent co-chair of our Synaplex focusing on Israel and Judy & Ken remain active leaders of Shalom Silver!

President's Award

I have a special President's Award, too! It's not often that mentors are recognized for their impact in helping us become who we are and how we became who we are – Debbi Sorrentino is, and continues to be, that person for me!

Debbi asked me to be a participant in the Federation's Congregational Leadership Initiative over 10 years ago and encouraged me to be on the Temple Board of Trustees while she was president. As a Past President, Debbi was a co-chair of Project Atideinu, she has been the chair of our continued Temple Board Development and...she serves as an overseer for HUC-JIR, the Reform Movement's seminary, with the Cincinnati campus. She has been a person I look to for guidance, lean on for support and, frankly, a person I strive to make proud as I have had the opportunities to be on the Board, on the Executive Team and as President.

Debbi, thank you so much for all you do for me and, more importantly, all you do for so many of us – and for our entire congregation. Temple Shalom is a better place because of Debbi Sorrentino - and I am a better person, and was a better president, because of you, Debbi Sorrentino! THANK YOU!

Torah Study Debate Rescheduled!

Saturday, July 12

9:00am - 10:15am Learning Center

Jewish philosophy stresses that free will is a product of the intrinsic human soul and is closely linked with the concept of reward and punishment, based on the Torah itself:

I have set before you, life and death, blessing and curse: therefore choose life. Deuteronomy 30:19

All are welcome to attend, however, please RSVP to Howard Gottlieb at hjg@att.net to insure we have sufficient accommodations and FOOD!

Summer Adult Classes

Shabbat Torah Study - Every Saturday
8:45am - 10:15am / Learning Center

Start your Shabbat morning with lively learning led by our clergy as we explore the weekly Torah portion. Enjoy the camaraderie with friends. Bagels and coffee provided 8:45am - 9:00am.

Judaica Study Class - Every other Saturday

9:00am - 10:00am / Boardroom

The class consists of 15-20 people who study books which are significant to an understanding of Judaism. Books are selected by the members of the class, who are encouraged to lead a discussion of the bi-weekly assigned readings. The class is open to anyone wishing to participate. Contact Mark Fisher at dallasfish@aol.com for more information.

I Was Just Thinking...

How is your life today?

It has been a little more than a year since I first posed this question to our congregation during last year's annual meeting and then again during the High Holy Days. I asked this question both as a way of reflecting on the changes at Temple Shalom at the time – Cantor Croll retiring and Rabbi Boxman coming to Temple Shalom – as well as a way of reflecting on the goings on of our own lives as a way of looking forward to the future, which I am always excited to do. Without reviewing every peak and valley we crossed, we come now to the point in our year to pause and assess, once again, how we did and where we are in order to chart where we might yet go.

As with any kind of change, be it seasonal, or age related; careers or perspectives, change definitely comes, perhaps slowly, perhaps not, and allows us a moment or two to ponder what the new scene looks like, what it feels like and how we will respond to it. It gives us a chance to reflect on our lives and to ask important questions that only we can answer. It poses existential questions to which we must answer in order to move forward in a healthy, productive way. What I hope for is captured in the phrase we use when we return the Torah to the Ark. Having heard God's word and perhaps learned something new of God's plan for us, we say, "Hashiveinu Adonai eleicha, v'nashuva. Chadeish yameinu k'kedem" - "Return us to You, Adonai, and we shall return. Make our days, new again as before." Think of it as the original slogan that Kellogg's Corn Flakes adopted a few years back when they came up with the ad campaign, "Corn Flakes - Try them again for the first time."

What I am praying for is not a return to my youth, as interesting as it may have been. I don't want to go through those experiences again, thank you very much, once was plenty. I am not praying for a younger version of me, devoid of the knowledge and mistakes, the relationships and accomplishments. I am not praying for a clean slate because forgetting the past, or worse, not having one, devalues the present and makes meaningless the experiences that got us here to where we are. No, I am not thinking for any of those things when I say, Hashiveinu Adonai eleicha, v'nashuva. Chadeish yameinu k'kedem. What I am praying for is for God to renew in me the passions, the energy, the desires, the thrills, the excitement, the radical amazement and the awe that I, and perhaps others as well, felt in days gone by. It is not to suggest in any way that I don't feel those feelings every day; rather, I pray to God to return me to my Divine source, which God gave to me, in order that I be able to do my work in the world. That's what God wants of me, that's what God wants of you.

What I am praying for is for God to renew in me the passions, the energy, the desires, the thrills, the excitement, the radical amazement and the awe that I and perhaps others as well, felt in days gone by. It is not to suggest in any way that I don't feel those feelings every day; rather, I pray to God to return me to my Divine source, which God gave to me, in order that I be able to do my work in the world. That's what God wants of me, that's what God wants of you.

So, how's your life today? It's simple, it's familiar and it is critically important at this juncture in our lives to ask it and be honest about our answers and thoughtful about what we are going to do with what we discover. We asked it last year at this time and, as we close out this academic year, I find it pertinent to ask it once more. So...How's your life today? How have the changes in your family, your career, your school, your children, your spouse/partner/significant other, your community, your neighborhood, your Temple, your city, your state, your country, your world affected you? What's different? What's the same? What matters most? Think about it. I know I will be. And, if you get stuck, a little prayer to God never hurts, for God indeed will return you to your Source of the Divine and there you will find everything you need.

Have a wonderful, safe, thoughtful and most importantly, restful summer.

Rabbi Andrew Paley

And the survey says....

A few years ago, Temple Shalom surveyed the congregation on a variety of topics with respect to interest and satisfaction. As for the survey response, 388 surveys were completed, and multiple focus groups were also surveyed. Two thirds of all respondents rated their satisfaction with Temple Shalom in the top two buckets (out of seven). It's time to look back at the specific results, and the steps taken since that address the results.

Congregational life and leadership was an area in which some congregants sought more participation. As a result of the survey, further emphasis was placed on our committees and councils, and we currently have seen a significant increase in congregational involvement with committees. We have increased participation, especially for young adults, by opening up the Havurah program to new Havurot, many of which involve young adults.

As young adults was (and remains) an area of focus listed by the survey, Temple invested both time and money into young adults connections and programming. Rabbi Boxman has led much of the effort and has a core group of young adults that meets regularly. The Board sent two congregants to Chicago to participate in the first conference on URJ Emerging Young Adult Initiatives. We are making strides in opening our congregation to increased young adult participation.

Our survey also addressed our staffing model, with an emphasis on education and music. The V'Ahavta Initiative reemphasized our congregation's commitment to lifelong learning being not simply a right but essential to the future of Judaism. Music was reinstituted and refocused this year into our religious school curriculum, and will grow and expand even more this coming year.

Our congregation's thanks cannot be repeated enough to Raelaine Radnitz, Josh Goldman, and all the members who have served on the Search Committee. They deserve the bulk of the credit for finding and securing Rabbi Boxman to reinvigorate our lifelong learning and bringing an exciting new and additional perspective to our worship; the Dallas Cowboys and Mavericks would declare it a banner year if they finished a draft with such a versatile and transformative player! And, while the Search Committee did not find a similar fit for the second position they were hoping to fill, we are thankful that they maintained the highest degree of selectivity and never settled. We will continue to assess our needs as we begin the new fiscal year, evaluating our next steps. Meanwhile, Cantor Glassman will be returning for the High Holy Days and will join us several additional weekends, and we have secured the part-time services of Rabbinic Intern Michael Harvey, who will bring his many talents to Temple Shalom to complement our All Star clergy team.

We are pleased to have been able to implement the needs as determined by our congregation's input, and to do so in a fiscally responsible manner with a balanced budget. While most congregations nationwide are seeing drops in membership, our congregation's decreases have leveled off and we actually had more members this May than the previous May. One of the survey's staffing recommendations that hoped to improve membership was a marketing position, which the Board budgeted, and whose work can be seen regularly in our TJP advertisements, Dallas Morning News coverage, and in all our publications. Our congregation is stronger due to our community's input, and additional and increased opportunities for input are scheduled this coming year.

A Note from High Holy Days Cantor Rita Glassman

I am truly excited to be returning to Temple Shalom as the Cantor for the upcoming High Holy Days 5775. I look forward to working once again with your outstanding Rabbis, the gifted Youth and Adult Choirs, Bob Brooks, your incredible Adult Choir Director, and Mary Medrick, your phenomenal accompanist. I hope once again, to carry on the legacy of your esteemed Cantor Emeritus Don Croll, bringing the finest musical gems of our High Holy Day musical traditions to Temple Shalom so that our worship together is uplifting, moving and inspiring. As I begin preparations for the High Holy Day services, I want to invite any and all adult members of Temple Shalom who have an interest in singing with the High Holy Day choir to take the plunge this year and join us. You don't need advanced choral skills by any means and there is lots of support in the choir to catch on as we go along. All you need is a passion for singing, an interest in getting to know some amazing folks, and a desire to connect more deeply with the music of our High Holy Day prayers.

There will be weekly choir rehearsals beginning Tuesday, July 15th at 7:00pm and every Tuesday evening through September. Studies have shown that singing is great for one's health, and surely even greater for the soul. As the sages tell us, "G-d likes us when we work, but G-d LOVES us when we sing!". If you want to learn more about what's involved in singing in the High Holy Day choir, please feel free to direct your questions to me, Cantor Rita Glassman, at choir@templeshalomdallas.org.

Adult Choir Rehearsals Begin Tuesday, July 15th!

I love good quotes. "I would never want to belong to any group that would have someone like me for a member." (Woody Allen in Annie Hall, attributed to Groucho Marx.) "Better to remain silent and be thought a fool than to speak out and remove all doubt." (Abraham Lincoln) "Leave the gun. Take the cannoli." (Clemenza in The Godfather.) My favorite, however, is Margaret Mead's quote, "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has."

Thank you to those who have volunteered to serve on the Temple's Board of Trustees. Thanks to the multitude of volunteers over the past year and to those who have already volunteered their time for this year; our volunteers are the heart and soul of Temple Shalom. Each week Temple Shalom changes the world and makes it a better place for so many, both inside our congregation and the world around us.

On occasion, I have heard the comment that "councils took over for committees." Fact: we have six councils and, within those councils, we have over 40 different committees (and that is not including sub-committees). We have tremendous auxiliaries, including Sisterhood, Brotherhood, plus: Shalom Silver, Young Adults Groups, and SHFTY, to name just a few. This year, if you don't read about it in the newsletter, then read about it via email, or the website, which will soon be updated to include new information about every committee and contact information for getting involved.

Temple Shalom is a place in which each congregant should feel fortified. We should enjoy our time at temple, whether we're volunteering, learning, praying or socializing. To put it simply, Temple should be fun. Perhaps not squirting-seltzer-during-Kol-Nidre fun (those over 45 please explain what a seltzer bottle is to the younger crowd), but fun in the sense that we feel better walking out of the Temple than we did when we walked in.

I am proud to be a part of the Temple Shalom community; it is the village that has helped to raise my family. We've got plenty of exciting activities planned for this year, so review your email, read the newsletter, and check out the website to find what interests you; come have FUN as we change the world!

B'shalom,

Dennis Eichelbaum, Temple Shalom President

Please Welcome Rabbinic Intern Michael Harvey

We are thrilled to announce that for the 2014-2015 year Rabbinic Intern Michael Harvey will be joining our congregation on a monthly basis. Michael is a fifth year rabbinic student at Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati. Please join us in giving Michael a Texas-sized welcome as he joins us once a month in worship, Torah Study, assisting our youth, providing his musical talents, and the many other various aspects in which he will participate and assist over the next year.

Michael currently is completing his tenure as a Rabbinic Intern/Youth Advisor at Isaac M. Wise Temple in Cincinnati. He has served as a clergy intern in such varied places as: Geneva, Switzerland; The Chautauqua Institution in Chautauqua, NY; Norton Hospital & Kosair Children's Hospital in Louisville, Kentucky; Temple Anshe Emeth in Pine Bluff, Arkansas; and United Hebrew Congregation in Joplin, Missouri. Michael has taught English in Seoul, South Korea, and music in Boston, Massachusetts, as well as Judaic Studies in various locations in North Carolina.

Inasmuch as the title of Rabbi is not formally bestowed until after graduation, please call him Mike, Michael or Mr. Harvey, as the handle Rabbi-In-Training (RABBI-IT) is a little much. We are excited about the enthusiasm and experiences Michael will bring to Temple Shalom. Michael grew up in St. Louis so, please, let's be hospitable and not hold it against him that he grew up a Cardinals fan.

2014 Food Truck Palooza Seeks Artists and Crafts Members!

Seeking artists and crafters of handmade items for this year's new Arts & Crafts shopping area. Priority will be given to Temple Shalom members. Remaining spaces will be open to community talent. All spaces will be reserved by June 15th, so book yours now!

We will be showcasing a variety of handcrafted items, with no more than two vendors of similar items in each category, such as jewelry, paintings, handbags, handmade textiles, knitted clothing, etc.

Lifelong Learning Council

In his book titled, The Social Church, Justin Wise attempts to understand how the influx of social media and technology has changed the way we engage with one another and with our religious institutions. Wise playfully calls this new generation, the "It's Mine, and It's About Me" generation. He writes: "This value [of customization] is rooted in the reality that we can customize everything as a new media generation. When I was growing up, the very first CD I bought was Jock Rock Volume 1. I bought it for one song only, "Blitzkrieg Bop" by The Ramones. I had to buy the whole CD in order to get that one song. Of course now, the New Media Culture knows that they can just go to iTunes and only buy the one song they like. They don't have to buy the whole album. This type of customization typifies the "It's Mine, It's About Me" value. It is less about self-centeredness and egotism more of creating a world in which one wants to live in."

As Wise so wisely points out, if we do not change the way we, churches and synagogues engage with our congregants, we will lose them. If we can customize everything from I-pods to sneakers to cell phone cases, why can't we customize our Judaism? Customize what we learn, the way we learn, where we learn, etc.?

In reflecting on this and brainstorming our future here at Temple Shalom, Rabbi Paley and I have come up with an idea for customized Jewish learning here in our own congregation. In addition to offering our traditional Torah study classes and occasional educational series, we are excited to announce the kick off of Concierge Judaism: Bringing Adult and Family Learning Home to You. In this exciting program, congregants will be able to choose, from an education catalogue, classes and experiences that interest them and their families. Volunteer instructors will teach from the comfort of your home or office and will create a customized learning experience based on what you and family and friends want to learn. In addition to Rabbi Paley and myself, the course offerings will be taught by Temple Shalom congregants and community members who have special talents or interests.

Classes offered range from challah baking to mystical text study. From Israeli wine tasting to Jewish family bedtime rituals. There will be something for everyone, whether it be a private session with your family, your Havurah or just a group of friends.

While we are still in the planning process, I would like to extend an invitation to anyone interested in being a volunteer Concierge Judaism instructor. Please send me a short blurb about what you might be interested in teaching and I will be in touch to secure the details. Keep in mind that classes are stand-alone and should range from 1-2 hours (max). Teaching times are arranged between the requesting party and the instructor, and all fees (for supplies) are covered by the learners.

Think about your special skills, interests, and knowledge and how it may be applied in a Jewish context. If you are unsure of your proposal, please let me know and I am happy to help! We plan to distribute our Concierge Judaism course catalogue in time for the High Holy Days, so please be in touch ASAP!

I look forward to learning with you and exploring this new format of Jewish education. For more information or to discuss your facilitator proposal, please contact me.

Connections Council

The Connections Council is looking for fun and eager volunteers who are looking for new ways to connect with Temple Shalom. Whether you have a lot of time or just a little time, or whether you have been a member of Temple Shalom for decades or just days, we have a spot for you.

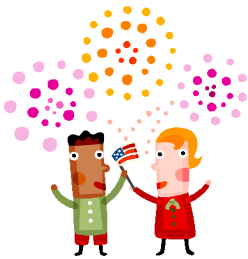

Please e-mail Diane Laner or Denise Blasband at connections@templeshalomdallas.org if you are ready to join one of these great committees!

STAY & PLAY COMMITTEE

Each Sunday when religious school is in session, the Connections Council makes sure that there are bagels, cream cheese and coffee (with flavored creamers!) for anyone who wants to hang out while their kids are in class, or, anyone who just wants to hang out at Temple! Some weeks we offer events – like yoga, recipe swaps, idea swaps or scrapbooking – and we always have a Mah Jongg set available and wifi for those who need to stay connected. If you would like to plan one or more Sunday events, or just want to meet other parents, being a part of this committee is perfect for you!

SEASONS AT SHALOM COMMITTEE

Throughout the year, Connections Council plans fun events to bring members together. During the summer, we've planned movie nights, challah baking, and the 4th of July fireworks viewing event. In the fall, we've hosted tailgating and movie nights. In the winter, we coordinated Chinese dinners on Christmas Eve, and in the spring.....well.....nothing was planned for this spring, but we're always open to ideas! We're looking for creative and fun committee members who enjoy planning simple events and meeting new people!

HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS COMMITTEE

Next year, the Holiday Celebrations Committee will develop and plan Temple-wide Hanukkah and Shavuot celebrations, and will work with the Havurah Committee and other Lifelong Learning Council committees to plan events around Sukkot, Passover and other Jewish holidays. Each celebration is a one-time event that does not require a lengthy time commitment throughout the year.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

The Membership Committee works closely with prospective members to introduce them to all facets of Temple Shalom and the Dallas Jewish community, should they be new to our city. We also welcome new members and help them connect to Temple in a way meaningful to them. The Membership Committee heats up right before the High Holy Days and the start of religious school, but has year-round volunteer opportunities as we help new members become involved in Temple life. Membership events include the late summer Prospective Member Brunch, and the spring New Member Oneg. Being a part of the Membership Committee is a great way to share your knowledge, love of and experiences at Temple Shalom.

Havurah

A havurah is a group of Temple members with similar interests who gather for holidays, cultural and educational experiences, game nights, social action and more. It's a great way to connect to our Temple community and the Jewish community at large. Each Havurah determines what it wants to do and plans activities according to its members' interests.

The Havurah Committee is currently working with 11 groups consisting of more than 150 members ranging in age from 1 to 80+. Make new friends and invite your current friends to join you by applying to be in a Havurah - or create a new one!

Click here for a Havurah application or find it on the Havurah page on the Temple Shalom website at www.templeshalomdallas.org. Send in your application TODAY!

Please email questions to havurah@templeshalomdallas.org.

BROTHERHOOD

Brotherhood Membership

Join us! Membership information will be mailed soon or you can download our membership form from the Temple Shalom website at <http://www.templeshalomdallas.org/groups/brotherhood>. Questions about Brotherhood? Contact Membership Vice President Jim Warner at jiwar0529@gmail.com.

As I assume the Presidency of the Temple Shalom Brotherhood, I am proud to be following in the footsteps of my friend and mentor, Scott Butnick. He took a strong auxiliary and made it even better through his leadership skills, his vision and his hard work. I am excited to have a group of men on my executive committee who are dedicated to continuing this tradition of excellence:

Vice President – Admin	Bill Hoffpauer
Vice President – Membership	Jim Warner
Vice President – Programming	Steve Weintraub
Financial Director	Irwin Kaufman
Treasurer	Roy Flegenheimer
Recording Secretary	Sander Gothard
Corresponding Secretary	Rick Cohen
Immediate Past President	Scott Butnick

We are pleased to have the following men on our team as Directors for the next year - Jim Davidson, David Edelstein, Mark Fisher, Ken Glaser, Mark Goodman, David Gordon, Rik Heller, Calvin Hurst, Mark Lerner, Bernie Mayoff, Jason Sandler, Brian Strull, Russell Turkel and Ron Wolff.

The Brotherhood Board is here to serve our members. We welcome your input. Our membership year starts June 1. We will be mailing membership forms later this month. You can also find our membership form on the Temple website and join today!

Finally, I would like to congratulate the incoming Temple President, Dennis Eichelbaum. You were a strong, inspirational leader of the Brotherhood, and I am confident that our Temple will thrive under your direction. The Brotherhood stands ready to help you!

B'Shalom!

Celebrating a SIMCHA?

Give the gift of Israel! Consider the purchase of an eMitzvah bond for as little as $36. The recipient will receive the principal plus interest at the end of the 5 year term. You can now invest in an Israel bond online for any occasion, at any time. Simply go to www.israelbonds.com, create an account and purchase a bond.

Remember the Temple in Your Will

Temple Shalom is committed to preserving the future of our congregation for generations to come. Bequests of all sizes are important resources for the Temple, and we encourage you to be a link to the future by remembering the Temple in your will. Your lasting tribute is your commitment to the survival of our religion, our Temple, and our people.

A bequest can easily be established by adding a simple codicil to your will. Additionally, many other options exist to leave a legacy for Temple Shalom.

A brochure with more information is available in our main foyer, or by contacting the administrative offices. For more information, please contact our Executive Director Steve Lewis at 972-661-1810 x202.

Your planned gift will serve the future of our congregation and community. Thank you for helping assure the strength and health of Temple Shalom for generations to come.

The on-line directory is updated periodically. Please send any changes to Heidi at hbarishman@templeshalomdallas.org. If you need assistance accessing the directory on our website, please contact Heidi.

As a caring community, we would like to reach out to our members. When there is an illness, death, hospitalization, birth, etc. please contact Joy Addison in Rabbi Paley's office at 972-661-1810 x201 or jaddison@templeshalomdallas.org.

Clergy and volunteers are here to help during times of need and celebration.

Our mission is to inspire in you a relationship with God, Torah and the Jewish people. Do you know someone we should invite to Temple, someone who is new to Dallas or is not connected to a congregation?

Please contact Executive Director Steve Lewis so we can show them that Temple Shalom is their place.
