I Was Just Thinking...

I don't know how many of you are Starbucks patrons, but I, for one, am partial to the "grande Americano, steamed non-fat milk and 2 sweet-n-lows." It took me nearly a year to figure out the precise order of the words to get the desired drink. All I really wanted was strong coffee. My, how my vocabulary has grown! I was stunned recently when the woman in front of me ordered something that was completely unintelligible, to me, while the person behind the counter smiled politely and asked, "Would you like whipped cream with that?" I wondered not only what she said, but what concoction she had ordered. It is fascinating to see the emergence of a new language fostered by a commercial enterprise. Who knew how many ways you could order coffee? Remember when it came black, in a cup?

With the concept of designer coffee firmly entrenched in our culture, what does the emergence of a variety of flavors and possibilities mean for the Jewish community? How does this concept impact Jewish communal survival?

Recently, I read a report entitled, "Grande Soy Vanilla Latte with Cinnamon, No Foam: Jewish Community and Identity in an Age of Unlimited Choices," by a New York Jewish non-profit organization. The findings in this study were revealing. The current generation of 18-25 year olds is known as "Generation Y" and is marked by the culture of unlimited choices in every aspect of their lives. The Jewish community is not immune from this. As a matter of fact, as the report suggests, for American Jews in Generation Y, being Jewish is not their sole identity. This generation has unlimited access to American society, therefore, Generation Y Jews behave much like all other Generation Y Americans, regardless of religion. Today's young Jews have multiple identities shaped by many factors, including intermarriage in their families, diverse social networks, and dynamic boundaries around geography and other identity characteristics, such as gender and sexual orientation. Being Jewish is part of a larger identity mosaic for today's Jews.

We know from previous research that earlier generations of Jews felt a need to maintain tight connections as they experienced anti-Semitism, workplace discrimination and other challenges. But, unlike Jews in the pre- and post-World War II era, this generation is fully integrated and does not need close communal cohesion in order to survive in a hostile society. Many Generation Y Jews no longer personally experience anti-Semitism or exclusion from the opportunities society has to offer; therefore, they are similar to their non-Jewish peers in that they worry about getting good grades, finding jobs, and socializing with friends more than they worry about their religious identities.

Despite their integrated appearance, Generation Y Jews feel incredibly self-confident about their Jewish identities. In contrast to the survival ethic of many of their grandparents' Jewish journeys, and contrary to the continuity fears of the 1990s, Generation Y Jews are very positive about being Jewish. This is particularly important, because members of Generation Y are in stages of adolescent development where self-confidence and building self-esteem are critical to their adult identity formations. There are limits to their self confidence, however; young Jews in this study do not claim to have a depth of knowledge about Jewish rituals, liturgy and text. Being Jewish remains a complicated tangle of spiritual, cultural, historical and ethnic dimensions, but their Jewish self-confidence may be an important factor in their personal development and in the communal evolution of Jewish identity.

For the synagogue, then, this stands as a significant area of concern. How, in the 21st century, will we be able to respond? What will our choices be? If history has taught us anything about the nature of the community, it is, in fact, that Jewish learning and Jewish ritual are the common denominators across time and space, even as the level of knowledge with text and tradition seems to decline, and that the synagogue is the best place to experience the fullness of Jewish life. A renewed effort in these areas on our part will result, I believe, in a remarkable mosaic of programs and possibilities, the likes of which we have never seen. It is both exciting and challenging. I look forward to joining hands with you as we walk our way through this time. And, if you've never had a "Grande Soy Vanilla Latte with Cinnamon, No Foam," try it, it's pretty good!

The President's Perspective

Your Temple Board of Trustees is hard at work for you. On August 11, your Board spent much of the day together learning, sharing, teaching and setting goals for this upcoming year. Specifically, under the organizational leadership of Executive Vice President Dennis Eichelbaum, we had a very productive annual retreat, held at Temple Shalom.

We started our day with Rabbi Paley teaching us how to effectively structure and write a D'Var Torah. As many of you may know, in addition to a prayer for communal leadership, we begin each of our Executive Team meetings and Board meetings with a D'Var Torah – a teaching. Occasionally, we have a Board member share his/her own personal Jewish Journey, rather than a text-based approach; both have provided insight and reminders about the holy work we are undertaking for our community, as best we can. We then had a very fun scavenger hunt around the building, finding trivia and interesting facts, in small groups, before engaging in a quiz about Rabbi Boxman!

The Board then divided into small groups and set specific goals for this Board of Trustees, organized by topic (such as worship, lifelong learning, and connections). This was not an exercise about the Temple's vision or even how our councils or committees should operate, rather, we committed to each other – and the congregation – ways in which your leadership will continue to demonstrate its commitment to our mission statement.

We concluded with an exercise titled, "What kind of Jewish leader do you want to be?" involving introspection, reflection and self-evaluation.

Overall, it is clear that our clergy, staff and lay-leaders are committed to making Temple Shalom a warm, energetic place to worship, learn and interact with friends. We are committed to making Temple Shalom a place we are proud to be and a synagogue – a holy community – where we want others to share the wonderful experiences we are having.

Join me in thanking our clergy, staff, officers and board members for their time, their talent, their perspectives and their willingness to give themselves to this community.

The Annual Fund - A Gift to the Future

We are connected

Almost 50 years of memories

Generations of families celebrating, learning, growing, grieving, rejoicing, forming friendships, being one...a shared Jewish experience.

We want richness and meaning in our lives

but often more than what our annual dues can subsidize.

This is why there is an annual fund and why it is vital that we all contribute.

With your help, we will continue from generation to generation and from strength to strength.

Lifelong Learning Council

Rabbi Menahem Mendel of Kotzk (1787-1859) once said, "If you truly wish your children to study Torah, study it yourself in their presence. They will follow your example. Otherwise, they will not study Torah themselves, but will simply instruct their children to do so."

In the V'ahavta we are told "V'shi'nantam l'vanecha," teach your children. We send our children to religious school, take them to B'nai Mitzvah training and hope that they will continue through confirmation in 10th grade. We tell our children how important it is for them to learn Hebrew, explore the Jewish faith and celebrate the holidays, but how many of us, Jewish adults, truly set a good example? We speak the words, but do we walk the walk?

Jewish learning is lifelong. It should not stop when we become a Bar or Bat Mitzvah nor when we complete confirmation; and it surely should not stop when we have children of our own. There is so much to learn and so much nourishment to gain. But, if we give up on our own learning, what hope do we have for our children, our next generation?

In my first month at Temple Shalom, I have been so pleasantly surprised by the scope of learning opportunities offered in our community for all who want to learn. In addition to the traditional Torah study offered on Shabbat morning, we have an abundance of adult learning selections for all who are interested in expanding their Jewish knowledge.

As Rosh Hashanah approaches and we are given our annual opportunity to make a New Year's resolution, I hope that yours will include committing (or re-committing) yourself to lifelong learning. In doing so, I pray that you will set a model for your children and grandchildren. Study in their presence, learn as a family, and remind them of the beauty of lifelong learning. Together, we will grow in body, mind and spirit. Together we will enrich our lives, engage our minds and sustain the next generation of our Jewish community.

Jewish Ethics Series

Join us on Sunday mornings as we explore the world of Jewish ethics.
Engage in discussion, challenge yourself and take something new and exciting away!

9:30am - 10:30am Epstein Chapel

Sunday, September 29

Be Fair and Deliberate in Business, and Truth vs. Gain (Jewish Values - Pirke Avot)

Presenter: Debbie Niederman

While we think of the sacred texts of Judaism as a guide for spiritual practice, they are also intended to be a guide for daily living. In our modern, hectic world, with the daily pressure to keep up, pay bills or get promoted, we may lose sight of the spiritual in daily life.

Sunday, October 6

Jewish Ethical Issues Just for Teens. Are they different?

Presenters: Aric Stock, Ken Parker and teens

Issues of ethics from a Jewish perspective will be addressed as they relate to teen issues.
Why or why not is the impact different from an adult perspective?

Sunday, October 13

Grudges and Forgiveness

Presenter: Dennis Eichelbaum

Are there crimes and offenses for which there is no forgiveness? What about genocide, rape, child abuse or neglect? Does Judaism teach us we must sincerely forgive from our heart all sins and transgressions? Join us as we analyze, discuss and debate this topic of "forgiveness."

Sunday, October 20

Sexual Ethics from the Torah and other Jewish Sources

Presenter: Rabbi Paley

Many controversial texts and related commentary on the issue of sexual ethics exist in our tradition, from B'reisheit to other biblical, rabbinic, Kabbalistic, and Responsa texts. These stories and narratives are ones not usually discussed in the classroom. We will make connections between the texts and our lives and help us learn Jewish perspectives on sexuality, love, and marriage.

We Need Your Input! What Programs Do You Want?

The Lifelong Learning Council is looking for input on the types of programs, as well as specific programs, congregants desire. Email Howard Gottlieb, Lifelong Learning Chair at hig@att.net with your ideas - Howard will address every email personally!

Jewish Picture Postcards from the Past

Stephanie Comfort has offered to find Jewish historical picture postcards from the past from your relatives' birthplace. This was a very successful program several years ago and for those who missed it, you now have a chance to partake of this meaningful experience. Email Howard Gottlieb at hig@att.net and let him know where your relatives were from and Stephanie will try to find a card from that city/country and send you a copy.

Shalom Silver

LIFE STARTS AT 55 FOR TEMPLE SHALOM SENIORS AND FRIENDS! TAKE A LOOK AT OUR EXCITING FALL PROGRAMS!

To borrow a phrase from Rabbi Paley, I was just thinking. As we enjoy the New Year and reflect on our lives this past year, I realize the most meaningful, satisfying times are those shared with family and friends. A new car, clothes, jewelry are all nice, but can't compare to the happiness that we experience with people we care about.

With that thought in mind, Shalom Silver provides us with enjoyable, fun activities shared with long-time friends and new friends.

This fall, Shalom Silver has so much to offer – so many entertaining and stimulating activities that are great in the moment and also make great memories! I wish you all a happy, healthy and fulfilling New Year! L'Shanah Tovah, Judy Parker

Radnitz Social Hall

If you saw Marty at our Spring event, you know what a wonderful performer he is! Marty will dazzle you with his wide repertoire of favorite songs, dance steps and audience interaction! Our charming new rabbi, Ariel Boxman, will mingle and say a few words. Don't miss this great afternoon!

Patsy Cline Impersonator, Linda Freeland

Sunday, November 3

4:00pm Radnitz Social Hall

This top notch Patsy Cline impersonator will delight us with some of Patsy's classics, as well as other much loved standards!

Doc Gibbs and Vera

Sunday, December 8

3:00pm Radnitz Social Hall

A Metroplex favorite, Doc Gibbs and his wife, Vera, will thrill us with their renditions of many pop, country, and Broadway favorites. Doc does some great impersonations as well!

We had wonderful programs last year, and, as you can see from the events above, this year will offer even more great entertainment, camaraderie and refreshments! Don't miss out! Dues, only $18 per person, are a real bargain.

Denise Blasband and Kathryn Frish
Havurah Committee Co-Chairs

It is a pleasure to welcome Jo-Ann Saunders back to Temple Shalom. She is co-chairing our Caring Congregation Committee with Gail Gilbert. Beginning in the next month or so, look for Jo-Ann's blog on our website. We'll let you know when it is active.

IT'S SO GOOD TO BE HOME!

For those of you who don't know me, I was a member of Temple Shalom for 25 years. My two kids grew up in this Temple. Then, as surely happens to all of us, life changed; circumstances changed; I needed a change. So I headed south on Hillcrest, if you get my drift. After almost four years of being merely a High Holiday Jew there, I decided it was time to come back home...to Temple Shalom.

I had been getting signs that it was time. I felt disconnected. But to be fair, I didn't put forth any effort to assimilate, either. I had no desire. Then, I kept running into former friends from Shalom. I was so happy to see them! I saw Rabbi Paley while paying a condolence call. We gave each other a big hug. I felt G-d was saying to me, "Are you paying attention to what's happening here? How many signs do you need?"!

So, one day I came to Shalom to check it out. My, how things had change! I ran into someone who was always such a stable and fun part of Shalom for me over the years - Joy. She gave me a personal tour of the building. I felt like such a big shot! Then, as we walked into Traditions, there was Dale, another fixture for me. I truly felt like I had come home!

That feeling you have when you walk in the door to your home after having been away on a long trip is exactly what I am now experiencing. It's like having hot chocolate on a cold winter's night with a fire roaring in the fireplace, covered up with a warm blanket and a good book. That, to me, is what home is all about. That is Temple Shalom.

Have a very happy and healthy New Year!

Jo-Ann Saunders, M.S.

Worship Committee

Would you like to provide input about worship at Temple Shalom? We want to hear from you!

Please contact Ken Parker, Worship Committee Chair at ritual@templeshalomdallas.org. You are invited to participate on the Worship Committee.

This committee meets monthly and provides a forum for open discussion of worship and observance between the clergy and the congregation. Our next meeting is Tuesday, September 10th at 7:00pm.

Caregivers' Day Out

10:30am – 2:30pm

In September: Thursday, September 12

Caregivers may bring their loved ones to Temple Shalom where they will be met by a "special friend" volunteer. The time will be spent in a stimulating, creative few hours participating in activities such as music, games, arts and crafts, and exercise. For more information and an application form, please contact Barbara Glazer at (972) 931-9077 or bbglazer@swbell.net.

Shalom Singles

Shalom Singles offers a variety of social events to enhance the lives of Jewish singles, ages 40 to 60, in our community. Just send your e-mail address to singles@templeshalomdallas.org.

High Holy Days Food Drive August - October 15

One of the High Holy Day traditions at Temple Shalom is the annual Food Drive. Just as last year, our beneficiaries will be the North Texas Food Bank (NTFB), and Jewish Family Service (JFS) food pantry, serving our community here in North Dallas and the Vickery Meadows area. NTFB and JFS represent our commitment to serving the hungry among us, both throughout North Texas and right here in our very neighborhood.

To participate, go to the Temple Shalom website at www.templeshalomdallas.org and follow the link from the home page to donate to our virtual food drive. NTFB will credit JFS with half of the proceeds once the drive is completed. Please note that NTFB will immediately email the tax deductible acknowledgement.

We ask that you consider a financial donation equal to the amount of money you would spend on food to feed your family for a typical day. Our goal is to raise $5,000 in this year's High Holy Days Food Drive to provide 30,000 meals to hungry families in our area.

Mark your calendars for upcoming Mitzvah Opportunities!

Back to School Supply Drive - Through Sept. 30

What is your favorite memory of "back-to-school?" Picking out pencils, folders -- a trusty eraser?

The Tikkun Olam Council wants to provide young children at Dobie Elementary School with school supplies.

Please drop off new school supplies (markers, crayons, pencils, glue sticks, construction paper) in boxes located at the Temple.

Serve Lunch at The Bridge

Temple Shalom serves lunch at The Bridge in downtown Dallas on the first Tuesday of the month from 11:30am to 1:00pm. If you would like to volunteer, please contact Arlene Kreitman at (972) 233-3754.

Tikkun Olam Council News

This fall, the U.S. Senate will be considering a State Paid Family Leave Fund. For information on Paid Family Leave, see the Tikkun Olam/Social Action page on the Temple Shalom website at <http://www.templeshalomdallas.org/groups/tikkun-olam-social-action>. Please plug into the Tikkun Olam Council and through acts of caring - service, action, education and gathering - together, we can make the world better. JOIN US! If you would like to help engage with our temple and Dallas community by serving on the council, e-mail Debra Levy-Fritts at socialaction@templeshalomdallas.org.

Jewish Film Festival of Dallas

September 7-29

Temple Shalom is co-sponsoring the Opening Night film!

Paris-Manhattan

Dallas Premiere
Saturday, September 7
9:00pm
Angelika Film Center, Plano

Romantic comedy / French w. subtitles

77 minutes/2012/Directed by Sophie Lellouche

Parisian pharmacist Alice Ovitz has been obsessed with the work and wisdom of Woody Allen since age 15. She even hands out DVDs of his films to her customers as medicine for their ailments. When the occasional suitor turns up, he never quite matches up to Woody. Will the seemingly ideal Vensent or the cynical Victor fare any better? This is a delightful romantic comedy, as light as a soufflé, with a delectable ending. Starring Woody Allen. Following the screening will be a Q & A with Michael Granberry, Sunday Arts Columnist, Dallas Morning News.

During the festival, September 7-29, films will be shown at Studio Movie Grill (Spring Valley location), the Angelika Film Center in Plano or the JCC Zale Auditorium.

Tickets for all screening (except the Closing Celebration on 9/29) are $11 in advance, $13 at the door. Season subscription is $95. Closing Celebration tickets are $18.

See the JCC website at www.jccdallas.org for a festival schedule and information

Brotherhood Board Meeting

Tuesday,
September 17
7:15pm Boardroom

All Brotherhood Members
Invited.

Stronger - Together!

Ushers still needed for Yom Kippur! Ushers must be Brotherhood members. As an usher, you receive two reserved seats in the Sanctuary and a handsome boutonniere. Volunteer with Bill Hoffpauer at billhoffpauer@att.net.

Don't forget to thank Bill Hoffpauer, and thank a Brotherhood Usher, too, when you see one at High Holy Days' services this month.

Bill is to the Holy Days what Angella Reid is to the White House. Chief Usher, and there's none better at it. Bill and his team arrive at the Temple well before services start and are usually found in the building well after they end. No one will argue that the clergy set the tone for the observance for the High Holy Days, but the ushers help establish, and maintain, the appropriate level of decorum. And they're also pretty good dudes.

Providing ushers is seen as an honor by the Brotherhood. The act of ushering is a privilege that is reserved to Brotherhood members only, and is viewed that way by each individual usher. We're proud to provide the service. Join us and experience the mitzvah-rific excitement of Temple Shalom Brotherhood. Go to <http://www.templeshalomdallas.org/brotherhood-membership-form>.

September offers a rich tapestry of Brotherhood events. The new and improved version of BARFS, our Fantasy Football league, launches with the draft on Sunday, September 1st. The NFL regular season starts later that week.

On September 8th, we will unveil the brand new Sukkah that the Brotherhood purchased for the Temple. It's 3200 sq. ft. under air with 4 Bedrooms, 2 Bathrooms and 2 Fireplaces, one in the Master Bedroom. And if you believe that, you'll also believe that there are Jewish women who hide the afikomen at Pesach in their foundational garments. Actually, the Sukkah size is an outrageous extension of the truth, but the afikomen statement is no bubbe meise. Be there at 11:00am on the 8th to help build the Sukkah. Lunch will be served (assuming you work). Please let us know if you can make it by sending an RSVP to tsbpres@outlook.com.

All the thrills of pennant race baseball are on tap on September 15th as the Brotherhood goes to the Ballpark to cheer on the Rangers against the hated A's. Sorry, but if you're just finding out about this, you're probably too late. Email Steve Weintraub at stevelweintraub@gmail.com to see if tickets are still available.

One of the great festivals in the DFW Metroplex comes up on Sunday, September 22nd. It's the event that makes the antacid makers go "cha-ching"...the Temple Shalom Food Truck Palooza. The Brotherhood will be vending soft and not-so-soft drinks. We need help. The event needs help. Sign up at <http://www.signupgenius.com/go/5080849AAAA29A64-2ndannual> to volunteer. It's gonna be great!

September 29th it's batter up again as the Brotherhood helps welcome back our Religious School Students. The batter, this time, will be of the pancake variety. Religious School parents...come to the Radnitz Social Hall and slam a few flapjacks with us. We're also holding a blood drive in the Social Hall that same morning. Come give the gift of life. For more information, contact David Gordon at rdmgord@aol.com.

L'Shana Tovah Tikateivu. May you be inscribed in the Book of Life for a year of joy and peace.

Directory Information

Our Temple Directory is online!
Access it by going to the Temple Shalom website at www.templeshalomdallas.org.
Log in and you will be able to see it! Please send changes to hbarishman@templeshalomdallas.org.

As a caring community, we would like to reach out to our members. When there is an illness, death, hospitalization, birth, etc. please contact Joy Addison in Rabbi Paley's office at 972-661-1810 x201 or jaddison@templeshalomdallas.org. Clergy and volunteers are here to help during times of need and celebration.

Remember the Temple in Your Will

Temple Shalom is committed to preserving the future of our congregation for generations to come. Bequests of all sizes are important resources for the Temple, and we encourage you to be a link to the future by remembering the Temple in your will. Your lasting tribute is your commitment to the survival of our religion, our Temple, and our people.

A bequest can easily be established by adding a simple codicil to your will. Additionally, many other options exist to leave a legacy for Temple Shalom.

A brochure with more information is available in our main foyer, or by contacting the administrative offices. For more information, please contact our Executive Director Steve Lewis at 972-661-1810 x202.

Your planned gift will serve the future of our congregation and community. Thank you for helping assure the strength and health of Temple Shalom for generations to come.
