Members share their stories...

"Temple Shalom is our home for many reasons but what really stands out are the friendships we have made through temple. Our family (Zach, Lauren, Sam, Jake and Charlie) moved here from the Northeast in 2011 and Temple Shalom welcomed us with open arms. We celebrate Jewish holidays and family milestones with Temple Shalom friends and truly feel like we are part of a community. All three of our boys have attended religious school at Temple Shalom and our two oldest sons, Sam and Jake, both became Bar Mitzvah at Shalom. Our youngest son, Charlie, became a Bar Mitzvah in Israel with the help of Temple religious school tutors and Cantor Avery."

Lauren serves on the Board of Trustees and has volunteered in different ways over the years from chairing the New Member Open House to serving on various task force committees.

Sam and Jake have both worked as Ozrim at Sunday School and Jake looks forward to continuing his work at Sunday School this fall. When we moved here, we knew no one. Temple Shalom was a huge part of making Texas feel like home."

For the Love of God ~ Concert November 10th &

Thoughts on Love for the New Year

The prayer V'ahavta commands us to love God. We are told to love Adonai, our God, with all our heart, with all our soul, and with all our might. We show our love for God through following God's commandments and laws. These words immediately follow the words of the Sh'ma, our most central declaration of faith as Jews. The Sh'ma immediately follows the prayer in our evening liturgy, Ahavat Olam, and in the morning, Ahava Rabba. We find the Hebrew word 'love,' Ahava, in both of these prayers and in the text we read as prayer, V'ahavta. Both Ahavat Olam and Ahava Rabba are prayers that speak of God's love for the people of Israel. God shows us love through giving us the Torah, giving us laws and precepts, and by showing us compassion.

Here we have it: God's love for us - Ahavat Olam & Ahava Rabba, Our declaration of faith – Sh'ma, and Our love for God – V'ahavta. The Sh'ma is bookended with love.

On November 10th, at 5pm, in my concert "For the Love of God," we will be exploring concepts like these through music. We will explore our relationship with God through text, through personal experiences, through the holidays, through difficult times, and through humorous moments. The love story between God and the Jewish people has the equivalent breadth and depth as our relationships with each other, spanning every human emotion, experience, and thought.

V'ahavta for Elul

In the month of Elul it has become our custom to use the new Mishkan Halev, the siddur for we use for S'lichot, and will also use for Shabbat Shuva this coming Shabbat, October 4th. In it, we have this beautiful poetic version of the V'ahavta:

V'ahavta for Elul

You shall love the ones who are close
With all your heart,
With all your spirit,
With all your strength.

Remember these words, inscribe them on your heart:
Love them when they struggle, when they sadden and disappoint you;
Love them when they fail.

See the good within them, even when they can't.
Look at them, and listen, even when it's hard.
Be grateful for their guidance (even their reproof)
When they save you from yourself.

Love them when they give you joy,
And love them when they don't.
When you lie down, let go of anger.
When you rise up at dawn, begin again.

Praise them for their deeds at home;
Speak to them in public with respect.

Bind yourself to the ones you love
With promises kept and vows fulfilled.
Open to them the gates of your heart, the doorway of your soul –
and let them know you.
So shall the ones you cherish feel your love, your presence, and your care.

Nowhere in our original text of V'ahavta does it tell us to love people. It tells us to love God and follow God's commandments. It speaks of our relationship to God and God's laws, not our connection with the people in our lives. What I love deeply and dearly about this poetic version is that it suggests loving people, especially the ones in our lives, is how we love God and how we engage in God's laws. God, Creator of all life, Giver of the Divine spark to each human soul, resides through that spark in each human. Loving people, loving ourselves, is indeed how we love God. I do believe, like our sages taught, that this is the greatest wisdom of our Torah.

As we count the days until Yom Kippur during this time of Shuva, this time of return, let us return to love. Let us face this New Year of 5780 with love in our hearts, not only for others, but for ourselves. Let us show our love for God through acts of kindness, compassion, grace, mercy, and gentleness. Shana tova to you all.

In Peace, Love, and Song,
Cantor Devorah Avery

President's Column by Rodney Schlosser

Dear Fellow Congregants,

Shanah Tovah! As you may have heard, the New Year brings several important enhancements to our building...a remodeled kitchen, a repaired roof, cement work in some of our outdoor spaces, and new security communication equipment in the classrooms.

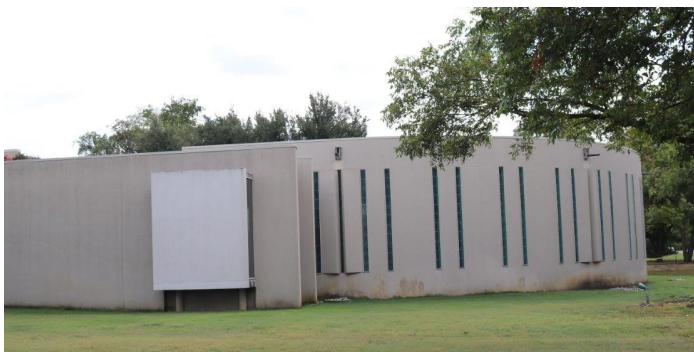

Many thanks to the 35+ families who collectively pledged over $500,000 to support the 2019 Capital Campaign. The full roster is listed on page 8.

The most visible changes are in the kitchen – which now has a separate beverage bar for everyday needs. The large cooking and storage spaces will require key access and feature an updated layout with new appliances, prep areas, cabinetry, and finishes. The Sisterhood increased their pledge this summer to underwrite elegant new dishes and flatware (service for 300)! Many people have commented that our facilities truly are now the ideal venue for a variety of simchas and private affairs – luncheons, dinner parties, receptions, and other social events.

None of this could have happened without the thorough, patient, and steadfast work of several key committees: Kitchen Planning Input, Kitchen Governance, and Building & Grounds. These volunteers have earned a round of applause! See full list on page 8.

With the opening of the kitchen, we're launching a Food & Wine Series. It kicked off with a challah baking program on September 22 (led by our own Julie Gadsby), and continues with six more brunch, dinner, and baking/cooking events November 2019 – March 2020. See page 12 for details.

With the beginning of 5780, may we all have a healthy, happy, and prosperous New Year.

Members share their stories...

"Temple Shalom has been home to our family for over 25 years. Throughout this time, the clergy and community have supported us in celebration, in sadness and through challenging times.

Our love for Temple Shalom has inspired each of us to seek out leadership opportunities. Matthew and Lauren were leaders in the youth group, Aric served as President from 2014-2016, and Karen has been an active volunteer, leading numerous projects and celebrations.

At Friday night services, Rabbi Paley reminds us to take a breath to separate from the busy week. Surrounded by our Temple Shalom community, we sing and pray together to welcome Shabbat. These moments are special and exemplify the warmth and peace that Temple Shalom brings to our family on a regular basis.

Temple Shalom is a place to learn, to pray, to reflect and to be surrounded by friends and family who care deeply about each other and the community. We are thankful that Temple Shalom is our home."

Donations for Jewish Family Service Food Bank

The type of food you choose to donate can have a positive impact in another person's life. When you choose to give food that is nourishing, you're increasing someone's energy level and mood so they can have a better quality of life.

When reviewing JFS's list of recommended items, consider plant-based foods as a way to contribute to the global effort to conserve water, reduce our carbon footprint, preserve plant and animal habitats, and reduce pollution of our water and air systems.

Consider donating these healthy, plant-based foods to your local food bank. Remember to always look for foods high in protein, whole grain, low sodium, and low sugar for the most nutritious impact.

Organic food is a bonus, too!

1. CANNED BEANS & LEGUMES

Beans and legumes are so versatile! One can eat them as is, or transform them into delicious hummus or falafel. They're also filling because they're packed with protein, fiber and complex carbs.

2. NUTS AND 100 PERCENT NUT BUTTERS

Choose assorted or mixed nuts with no salt or sugar added. The best type of nut butters should only have one ingredient. Try almond butter, sunflower butter, or peanut butter.

3. WHOLE GRAIN PASTA, RICE, AND CRACKERS

Whole grain pasta and crackers can come in many shapes and sizes, so donate a variety. Opt for brown rice, black rice, purple rice or wild rice! Donating rice noodles increases the amount of gluten free options available at the food bank.

4. CANNED FRUITS & VEGETABLES

There's more to canned veggies than corn and peas. Try canned beets or asparagus – canned pumpkin is also a great fall choice that is not only festive, but adds protein and fiber to any dish. Choose canned fruit packed in its own juice or water.

5. LOW SODIUM SOUPS, STEWS & BROTHS

Soups are a great option for a warm, hearty meal.

6. WHOLE GRAIN BREAKFAST CEREALS AND OATMEAL

Look for whole grain cereals. Switch it up by donating gluten free options, too. Oatmeal is easy to cook and can be enjoyed sweet or savory. Donate some boxes of packets to give busy individuals a grab-n-go option.

7. SHELF-STABLE PLANT-BASED MILK

Choose a plant-based milk in shelf-stable pack.

Temple Shalom is hosting our Annual High Holy Days Virtual Food Drive benefiting the North Texas Food Bank thru October 31st.

BROTHERHOOD

I'll let you in on a secret...When I'm at services or watching online on Friday nights, when given the opportunity to express my personal thoughts during silent meditation, I generally thank our Creator for the wonderful week, whether it was on balance good, bad or a combination of both. A former CEO where I once worked expressed this in print to all employees following a successful open-heart surgery, "Being here is better than not being here." I have always since taken that simply expressed quote to heart.

Also, I thank Him in my thoughts for the blessings bestowed to me in having a wonderful wife, immediate family, friends, a wonderful Temple community and Brotherhood Brothers.

Hebrew Year 5779 has been a year that I'll always savor as it has been filled with many blessed happenings and events. 5780 is looking as if it has the potential to do the same! It is my hope that your past and upcoming year provide a similar outlook!

It is also my hope that, if you've yet to do so, you'll join our League of Extraordinary Menschen through our events or at least by contributing your financial support by clicking the following link:

<https://templeshalomdallas.org/brotherhood/>.

When I sometimes stop to think of how much our Brotherhood accomplishes each year with youth-related events and scholarships, our financial and manpower support to our Temple, the Greater Jewish and DFW communities, our Softball League, it's daunting and a great point of pride. If Tikkun Olam is one of your goals for the New Year, we will offer up the ideal platform to meet your goals! Please make us a part of your upcoming 5780 journey in whatever manner you can participate.

A Chag Sameach and may you be written in the Book of Life for another year!

Brotherly Yours!
 Steve Weintraub
 President, Temple Shalom Brotherhood

7:00pm - 8:30pm

Learning Center

Please RSVP to Lori Kleinfeld at ldk216@aol.com

Did you know that family violence occurs in Jewish families at about the same rate as in the general community — estimated at between 15 and 25 percent? However, in the Jewish community, victims stay in the abusive relationship for 5 to 15 years longer — two to three times as long — than victims in other communities. Why?

Please join us as we gain a better understanding of how family violence impacts the Jewish Community by listening to some victims via the film, When the Vow Breaks.

Then, hear from an expert on the importance of the Violence Against Women Act of 2019, which the House has already passed. However, the Senate has yet to introduce a companion bill. We will end the evening by engaging in a postcard writing campaign to our Senators asking for them to support a Senate version of House Resolution 1585, The Violence Against Women Act.

Finally, we will engage in a postcard writing campaign to our Senators asking for them to support a Senate version of House Resolution 1585.

We hope you can join us on this very important evening of learning and action.
