I Was Just Thinking...

The ancient story of Purim, recounted in the biblical Book of Esther, offers profound insights into various aspects of our world today. Despite being a narrative from ancient times, the themes and lessons embedded within the Purim story resonate strongly with contemporary issues and challenges. Here are a few thoughts....

The Perpetuity of Prejudice and Discrimination: At its core, the Purim story revolves around the pervasive presence of prejudice and discrimination. Haman's sinister plot to annihilate the Jewish people stems from his deep-seated bigotry and desire for power. Similarly, in our world, we continue to witness instances of discrimination based on race, religion, ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation.

Whether it's anti-Semitic incidents, racial profiling, or discriminatory policies, the Purim story serves as a stark reminder of the enduring nature of prejudice and the importance of combating bigotry in all its forms.

The Dynamics of Power and Oppression: The Purim story also sheds light on the dynamics of power and oppression. Haman, as a high-ranking official in the Persian empire, wielded significant influence and used his position to oppress and persecute the Jewish population. This imbalance of power echoes contemporary struggles against authoritarian regimes, oppressive governments, and systemic injustices. The story of Purim underscores the importance of resisting tyranny and standing up for the rights of the marginalized, even in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds.

The Role of Courage and Resistance: Central to the Purim narrative is the theme of courage and resistance in the face of adversity. Esther, who becomes queen of Persia, risks her life by revealing her Jewish identity and speaking out against Haman's genocidal plot. Her bravery, along with the support of her cousin Mordecai and the Jewish community, ultimately leads to the salvation of the Jewish people. In today's world, where individuals and communities face various forms of oppression and injustice, the story of Purim serves as a powerful reminder of the transformative potential of courage and resistance in the struggle for justice and freedom.

The Importance of Leadership and Advocacy: Another lesson from the Purim story is the critical role of leadership and advocacy in times of crisis. Mordecai's leadership and Esther's advocacy were instrumental in mobilizing the Jewish community and thwarting Haman's nefarious plans. Similarly, today, effective leadership and advocacy are essential for addressing pressing global challenges, from human rights abuses and political repression to environmental degradation and social inequality. The story of Purim emphasizes the importance of moral leadership and collective action in confronting injustice and promoting positive change.

The Complexity of Identity and Assimilation: The character of Esther, who conceals her Jewish identity while living in the Persian court, raises questions about the complexities of identity and assimilation. Esther's dual identity as both a member of the Jewish community and a member of the Persian royal household highlights the tension between assimilation and maintaining cultural heritage. In our contemporary, multicultural society, individuals, and communities grapple with similar questions of identity, belonging, and cultural assimilation. The Purim story prompts us to reflect on the challenges and complexities of navigating multiple identities in a diverse and interconnected world.

The ancient story of Purim offers timeless lessons. By examining issues of prejudice, power dynamics, courage, leadership, and identity, we can draw inspiration from the characters and events of Purim as we confront the challenges of our own time and strive towards a more just, inclusive, and compassionate world.

Chag Purim Sameach! See you on the 23rd!

Presidential Nu's

Dear Sophie and Micah:

By the time you are old enough to truly understand the meaning of this letter, the world as I know it may be unrecognizable. My hope for you is that some traditions, remnants, and the history of our people continue to be carried on. The Babylonians, Romans, Egyptian Pharaohs, the Ottoman Empire, the British Empire, Tsarist Russia, and many other similar groups have come and gone. And while many of those empires have persecuted, subjugated, tried to convert, expelled, and even tried to eliminate the Jewish people, each time we have survived.

The Jewish people have endured and remain because we are more than a religion, a belief system; we are a people, a community. Jews care for each other whether they be a family member or a total stranger; if you ever find yourself in a place where you have no connections or friendly faces but are in need, look for the Jews, as they will care for you. Find the closest synagogue, because there you will find people who know that the Jewish community is not just their local community, but the Jewish people throughout the world.

Synagogues in America are the foundation and the lifeblood of what keeps the Jewish people together, and will be the reason Judaism will continue to survive here. JDate and the internet may connect you with Jews, but it is not enough to sustain our community. And while it may not always be what your friends are doing, you need to affiliate; join and support a synagogue. It does not matter if it meets your immediate needs; think of it as insurance for the Jewish community. Be a part of sustaining the people who came before you for the people who will come after you.

I joined Temple Shalom because I loved teaching religious school, and I started Ozrim because I saw the need to raise and train teens to be future religious school teachers. I joined Brotherhood because I liked the friendships I gained and the activities they did like building the Sukkah, providing a Purim Carnival, and playing softball. Your Bubbe joined Sisterhood and served in many roles on the Temple Board and task forces. We both have served on the Temple Board of Trustees. Your family has helped raise money for temple programs and we volunteered our time and money to sustain temple life, investing in our Jewish community at Temple Shalom. And anytime the temple asked us to assist, we have made every effort in any way possible to help maintain and fortify our congregation. That is part of sustaining a Jewish community.

I have had many friends who have enjoyed the benefits of our congregation, raised their children at Temple Shalom, enjoyed Jewish life cycle events at temple, accepted scholarships for their children to go to Jewish camps, but once their children graduated, they decided to leave the Temple Shalom community because they did not see what they were receiving for their membership dues. I do not begrudge these people for wanting to keep that money, but one can still join a synagogue and maintain their finances. Temple Shalom has never rejected a member of the community for an inability to pay dues. And while the money you earn can bring you much joy in vacations and nice cars, it can also bring you much joy and satisfaction in making a difference. What those who left did not understand was their sacred duty to maintain a safe haven, of having a Jewish refuge when you or other Jews need it. Being part of the Jewish community means helping maintain the community even during times when you think it may not benefit you, because God forbid there may be a time when you do need that community's support-- for an illness when the congregation gives you comfort and companionship, or a shiva to mourn with you at a loss, or just a friend to sit with at services. Taking the temple for granted, as if it will always be there if you decide to come back is like believing your plants will be there if you leave for a year-long vacation and you do not continue to water them. One should not take for granted a temple can survive if you do not actively feed it and maintain it.

At temple, your children can learn about our traditions, our beliefs, and our ethics. They will learn how justice is what sustains a civilized world. These teachings, which is what the Torah is, are the link to survival of the Jewish people, but also the world. It is the Jewish tradition of Tikkun Olam, repairing the world, that models for the world how to promote peace and unity. By working in the temple garden with others to grow food for those in need of food, together we repair the world one meal at a time.

My hope and prayer for you is that you will carry on these traditions. Be a part of sustaining the Jewish community. Whether it is your time, your money, your wisdom, or better yet all of these things, you can contribute and be a vital part of the link between generations and thus become, in your own right, part of the legacy of the Jewish people. This is your community, they will be there for you when you celebrate and when you need comfort, and it is your sacred obligation and your birthright to be a part of maintaining our Jewish community in all ways in which you are able.

Love, Your Zayde

Young Adults and Young Families at Temple Shalom

Congrats on making it through the first two months of a brand new year! This is Mollie Schick and Emma Darling reporting to you on the fantastic opportunities Temple Shalom offers for both Young Adults and Young Families. We both always find a new year exciting to build on successes of the past and find a fresh start with new initiatives, and with these two groups there is always room to grow.

Who are we?

In the six years I (Mollie) have been a member of Temple Shalom, there have been so many opportunities that the Temple has provided me to become involved. Most Sundays you'll find me in our Justice Garden doing whatever needs to be done (But I hope it is digging for potatoes!). This is also my first year serving on the Temple Shalom Board of Trustees which has been a great opportunity to meet fellow congregants, learn more about the inner workings and committees at the Temple, and gain a general understanding of operations (Whoa, is it a lot!). Through my career and education I have found a focus in the private, for-profit corporate world so it has been insightful to expand my knowledge of how nonprofits function. I am also a participant in the 2023-2024 Temple Shalom Leadership Development program for emerging and established leaders which has been an intimate opportunity to learn about Jewish Leadership Fundamentals, Temple's organizational structure and governance, and how to handle common challenges faced by nonprofits.

It has only been five years since I've been a dues-paying member in my own right (Emma), and while I have been serving on the Temple Board for three years, I've been a part of the Temple Shalom community my whole life. In 2019 when I got married in our Temple Sanctuary, I wrangled in my husband James as an active member and now, in 2024, I have two big eyed kiddos, Sophie and Micah, running around the Radnitz Social Hall. I have been a member of lots of the Temple's greatest group hits: from Religious School to Next Dor, Ozrim, the 2022-2023 Leadership Development Class, Sisterhood, and the Board of Trustees. Now you'll mostly catch me at Munchkin Music, Munchkin Minyan, Tots Academy, the Adult Ed Cooking Series, and our incredible concert series.

What do we love to do?

In 2023, our Young Adult Community at Temple Shalom picked up some great momentum and we are thrilled to continue full steam ahead in 2024. To those of you who made it to our Chanukah Party in December or our first events of the new year celebrating Tu'Bishvat in the Justice Garden and our February Young Adult Shabbat Service and Dinner, it was great to hang out with you. No worries if you missed any of these as we have a jam packed calendar planned for this year with all sorts of events.

Keep your eye out for RSVP links as Friday, March 15th we will join together for a themed shabbat meal. We will celebrate Purim at the Temple-wide Adult's Only Purim celebration on Saturday March 23rd. And April has a fun class line-up with Passover-U on Sunday April 14th. But Wait! There's More! We have game nights, offsites, and holiday events in the works for the rest of the year. Reach out to join us via youngadults@templeshalomdallas.org.

For our Young Families, Temple Shalom has a fabulous introduction to our community through Munchkin Minyan. Members and non-members are invited on Saturday mornings to come together in our Temple Shalom Radnitz Social Hall to learn about Judaism and the holidays, make a fun craft, eat some snacks, and sing together. The next Munchkin Minyan is on March 23rd. If you love music, I can't recommend enough Munchkin Music. This is a once a month music program on Sundays, during Sunday School, for the kids to get some wiggles out, dance, try out new instruments, and simply enjoy being together. Our next gathering is on March 3rd. Registration is on our website.

If you would like to get involved with a particular program but do not know where to start, reach out! We would be happy to connect you to the right people.

If you have an idea for a program you would like to see in your young adult community, reach out! We would love to hear it.

If you know someone local who is in their 20s or 30s, or has just started their family, reach out! We are excited to meet them.

If you are not sure which programs you might enjoy at Temple Shalom, reach out! We have individuals from all backgrounds, life-stages and many phenomenal community members who span and participate in BOTH our Young Adults and Young Families groups at Temple Shalom.

Belonging

What does being a part of the Temple Shalom community mean to you? And you? Or you? This question can be asked of ten people, and we would get ten different answers. As a kid, I just always assumed every family belonged to a congregation. I mean, my parents did. What I didn't realize was they were members of a congregation just so my brothers and I could attend Religious School. Then, somewhere down the road, they didn't belong anywhere. I was in college when I realized this. I especially thought about not belonging anywhere during the High Holy Days. Now, my parents weren't unhappy with their last congregation. In fact, they were quite pleased with the clergy and the people who became their good friends.

They just didn't feel a need to belong. It wasn't until I got engaged that they rejoined because I wanted to get married in a temple. Lifecycle events drive people to look for a place of worship, a place where they can find clergy with whom they can identify or a community that feels warm and welcoming. Rabbi Roseman officiated our wedding 35 years ago this past January, and Jeff and I have been Temple Shalom members ever since. That was important to us – so when we had a lifecycle event happen, we already had our Rabbi. Our girls were both named by Rabbi Roseman and became B'nai Mitzvah with Rabbi Paley. When my mom recently passed away, Rabbi Paley was one of the first calls we made. We all experience lifecycle events, and we were so glad to have the support of our Temple Shalom community. That's just one of the many reasons why we call Temple Shalom home.

Speaking of lifecycle events – have you been to see the Lifecycle Photo wall?

Finding sacred community is a journey. Building a community requires everyone to participate and help create the place we all desire. Sustaining that sacred and welcoming environment is something that takes everyone's efforts. We never know when someone is ready to belong, so we must continue to invite, include, and share all of the wonderful happenings here at Temple Shalom.

March begins with Elana Arian and our Artist-in-Residence weekend, March 1-3. Come share a wonderful Shabbat musical service on Friday evening, enjoy Lunch & Learn, for members only, at noon on Saturday, or enjoy the concert on Saturday night. The concert is a community-wide event, so invite your friends to listen to Elana's beautiful music. Tickets for the concert can be bought online from our website. Our Young Adults are busy creating programs for those in their 20s and 30s, continuing with a Green-Themed potluck dinner following Shabbat services on March 15th. Purim is around the corner and there is something for everyone! A free Munchkin Minyan for families with children under 7 will be held on Saturday, March 23 and an adult-only Purim Spiel and Karaoke Lounge that evening. The cost is $18 for members, and $25 for non-members. This should be such a great night! Or, simply come and see our garden team in action, or pitch in, on Sundays. You can RSVP for all of these amazing programs on our website: templeshalomdallas.org

Growing and sustaining our membership is the responsibility of us all. Please look around you and invite any unaffiliated friends to come join you at any of the upcoming programs. Feel free to share any contact information with me and I will take it from there. Together, we can continue to grow this wonderful community and ensure that our children and our children's children can understand why we chose Temple Shalom.

We are always here for you!

MODERN JEWISH COOKING

This new series pays homage to traditional Jewish foods while reflecting the values of modern-day cooks.

Sessions focus on established traditions and a celebration of the way we eat now.

Recipes for some of the classics of Jewish culinary culture – Challah, Kugel, and Purim Noshes – will be prepared and shared.

Sundays at 1:00pm in the Temple Shalom Kitchen

Session 2 on 3/3: Cooking With a K: Kugels

Barbara Guskin shares modern style kugel recipes, sweet and savory, with short cuts and innovative flavors.

Session 3 on 3/17: Purim Noshes Reimagined

Karen Stock demonstrates creative ideas to celebrate Purim – from savory noshes to imaginative hamantaschen.

$9/per adult per session. Register for one session or both.

Torah Study Every Saturday

8:30am Food / 9:00am Study Learning Center AND via Zoom

Torah study at Temple Shalom is an interactive, lively & engaging exploration of Torah, Hebrew Bible & related information. Each week, Rabbi Paley leads an exploration into the meaning & influences of biblical texts (in English) & the impact it has on our lives, our communities & our world. All are welcome to join us as we examine the Book of the Prophets. Bring a friend, your own Bible or use one from Temple, and your willingness to learn! Zoom information is in the weekly emails.

Lifelong Learning/Worship Council

I recently heard a d'var Torah that referenced the book Dear God: Children's Letters to God by David Heller. These brief letters, written by children ages 6 to 12 from various religious and cultural backgrounds, emerged from Heller's research on children's religious and moral development. Here is a small sampling:

Dear God: Thank you for my baby brother. But what I really wanted was a puppy. Joyce.

Dear God: Maybe Cain and Abel would not kill each other so much if they each had their own rooms. It works with my brother. Larry.

Dear God: We read in school that Thomas Edison made light. But in Sunday School, they said that you did it. I bet he stole your idea. Donna.

Dear God: I didn't think orange went with purple until I saw the sunset you made on Tuesday. That was cool!

Children can be great teachers of Torah, but they need models of learners, too. This is why we have given the 7th graders, our oldest Sunday learners, the opportunity to lead younger learners. This is why we have Ozrim, teenage helpers, here every week. And this is why we have learning opportunities for parents.

The Talmud teaches that the children who left Egypt were the first to recognize God. This is a puzzling statement. What about Moses, Miriam, Aaron Joshua, and all the elders of Israel? The Rabbis argue those were not the first to recognize God, but rather, it was the children born and raised under Egyptian oppression. The Rabbis taught that even during this time of enslavement, the children received a Jewish education, which imbued them with the ability to recognize God.

When we embrace the opportunity to learn through the joy and wonder of the eyes of our children and when we share with them our own experiences of Jewish joy and wonder we can all become imbued with the ability to recognize God, as it says in Pirke Avot 4:1: Ben Zoma said: Who is wise? He who learns from every man, as it is said: "From all who taught me have I gained understanding."

Ten Sustainability Ideas from Shomrei Adamah (Guardians of the Earth) For Temple Shalom and Congregants:

1. If you are hosting a Temple Shalom event or planning a meeting, consider using reusable plates, glasses, silverware, and tablecloths.
2. Carpool, if possible.
3. Remember to use reusable grocery bags.
4. Replace your air filters on a regular basis.
5. Eat more fruits and vegetables, and less meat - that's good for your health and for the Earth!
6. Use reusable cloths and rags, rather than paper towels.
7. Use Earth friendly cleaning detergents such as Blueland Multi-Surface Cleaner and Grove Multi-Purpose Cleaner.
8. If possible, walk or bike ride to stores & restaurants - this saves on gas & is good for your health, too.
9. Recycle as much as possible.
10. Join a Buy Nothing Facebook Group near to where you live to find things you need or want to give away, for free!

SISTERHOOD/BROTHERHOOD BOOK CLUB

Saturday, April 6 / 1:45-3:00pm

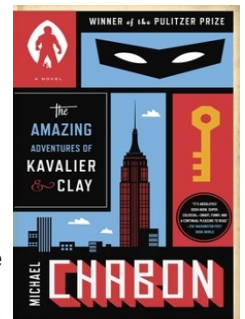

Home of Staci Mendelsohn

Everyone is invited to join us as Sabrina leads the discussion of Amazing Adventures of Kavalier and Clay by Michael Chabon.

This book starts with the escape of Joe Kavalier from Nazi occupied

Prague hidden in a coffin he shares with the golem of Prague. The story continues on to NYC where Joe and his cousin start writing adventure stories and comic books, featuring the Escapist, an anti-Fascist superhero. Combining magic, comic books, Jewish mysticism and escape artists, it is not to be missed.

Please RSVP to Sabrina Skeldon at skeldonsabrina@gmail.com.

Nationwide Online Reporting System for threats or suspicious activity relation to Jewish organizations or communities.

Once a report is made, security agents determine the urgency and, if necessary, work with the FBI or other law enforcement partners. The information from the reports can also be used to keep better data on incidents, learn who is behind the threats, and track cases across communities. People can use their computers, tablets or cell phone to fill out the reports.

OMBUDSMAN

If you have a question, comment, or complaint regarding something at Temple Shalom you logically might raise your issue with Rabbi Paley, President Eichelbaum, a member of our Executive Committee, or a staff member. However, if you would like an independent channel to look into your issue then our ombudspersons are the place to go. Our two ombudspersons are Myron Schwitzer and Lory Kohleriter. They each have been members of our temple community for over 50 years and are very knowledgeable about a lot of Temple details. They may be able to give you a response for your issue when you contact them, but, more than likely they will want to research it so they can get back to you with a fully developed response.

Please reach out to them at ombudsperson@templeshalomdallas.org if you prefer to go to someone not aligned with the issue you wish to discuss.

Our Mission: Temple Shalom builds holy community, connecting our congregation to one another, to God, Torah, Israel and the Jewish people through worship, study, gathering and community service.

Do you know someone we should invite to Temple, someone who is new to Dallas or is not connected to a congregation?

Please contact Executive Director David Lamden dlamden@templeshalomdallas.org so we can show them that Temple Shalom is their place.
